SHORELINE BY-PASS ROUTE ENDORSED

Road May Follow Tennessee Valley, Skirt Stinson Beach

Shoreline Highway recommendations calculated to allay Marin County apprehensions were made at a Los Angeles session of the California Highway Commission yesterday.

Chief points endorsed by state highway engineer J. C. Womack included:

1. Routing the proposed modernized road up Tennessee Valley rather than more populous Tamalpais Valley, the present route.

2. Avoiding the present route through Stinson Beach in favor of the "high route" where there are few homes.

3. Skirting around the new Audubon Society bird sanctuary off the Bolinas Lagoon west of Stinson Beach.

4. Giving "scenic' and "parkway" treatment rather than the ordinary freeway concept which has been attacked by nature lovers.

The section involved includes 20.5 miles of the Shoreline from its intersection with Highway 101 near Mill Valley to a point 2.8 miles south of Olema.

The Division of Highways proposes to acquire right of way for a four-lane highway throughout this stretch. However, plans call for initial development to four lanes only for a short section west of highway 101, with the remainder being built as a two-lane limited access highway.

Cost of the project, for which funds have not yet been allocated, is estimated at 29.3 million dollars.

It was stressed, according to J. Fred Bagshaw of Mill Valley, assistant director of the state Department of Public Works, that nothing will be rushed and particularly that legislative decisions defining and creating "scenic highways" will be awaited.

In keeping with this, Bagshaw said, the Marin County Board of Supervisors will be invited to bring state highway planners to San Rafael for a public hearing of Marin views.

They will be asked to decide within 30 days whether they wish such a hearing, and another month or two will be taken to arrange for this with due notice to everyone interested.

"It all sounds pretty good to me so far," commented Marin County public works director Marvin W. Brigham. "I think they are heeding the objections which burst out on a basis of earlier reports."

The Tennessee Valley runs generally southwest from near where the present Shoreline road meets Almonte Boulevard and turns west up Tamalpais Valley. It passes through the northwest part of Fort Cronkhite to reach the coast well south of the Muir Beach area where the present route passes.

The new routing is described as following the cliffs along the coast. The major change will be at Stinson Beach to respect the wishes of residents as well as provided more space by taking to the thinly settled upland areas.

It was stressed at the meeting that "only general routing" is the present objective.

Kennedy Says Tax Bill Must Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy said today that if Republicans succeed in killing the administration's tax revision plan it will be a blow to the nation's economy.

He told his news conference he has "great difficulty in understanding the position of any political party that makes it a political objective to defeat this bill."

The president said that if the effort to kill the bill succeeds it will wipe out the hope of stimulating business investment, cost the country 600 million dollars in taxes which now go uncollected on income from dividends and interest, and damage the administration's program for economic growth and increased national production.

Kennedy said everyone who wants this country to grow and provide new jobs should support the bill. It would, he said, close many tax loopholes.

House Republicans are driving to knock out of the bill tax incentives for business that would deprive the government of 1.2 billion dollars in revenue it now receives. They also are maneuvering to defeat a proposed withholding tax on dividends and interest that would bring in an extra 650 million

On nuclear testing inspection, Kennedy said Secretary of State Dean Rusk's reports indicate the problem of inspection has emerged as the central issue.

We cannot accept any agreement without adequate inspection, Kennedy said, and the Soviet Union flatly rejects any effective inspection.

Kennedy said the United States wants a nuclear test treaty and will continue to strive for one, but will insist on an adequate inspection technique.

That was part of Kennedy's answer to a question whether this country now is definitely committed to going ahead with nuclear tests in the Pacific.

He said this country's position is unchanged.

Kennedy dealt with these other matters:

Steel — The president said the contract has not been agreed to formally, and he wants to make no statement until this is done.

Argentina—Precise information on the government overturn is lacking and it would be unwise, Kennedy said, to comment now on such matters as the effect on the Alliance for Progress program.

Berlin—Answering a question whether there is "any more hope involved" in the fact the Soviets have never pressed the issue to a showdown, Kennedy said he sees no reason for a let-down in vigilance, but he feels both countries realize the danger of "excessive action."

Summit Conference—Asked whether Secretary of State Dean Rusk, just back from nuclear, disarmament and Berlin talks in Geneva, got anything from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that would indicate a better outlook for a summit conference, Kennedy said he has nothing to add to what he has said before. In effect he restated his position against going to the summit without preliminary developments indicating benefits.

Laos—The best U.S. policy is to have a free and independent country in Laos. He said he favors a coalition government there.

Budget Balance — Kennedy indicated there now is doubt about the prospect for balanc-

Corte Madera Sewer Line Ban May Halt All Building

Corte Madera Sanitary District has placed a ban on new sewer connections which may halt all building in Corte Madera.

This came to light yesterday with disclosure that J. Wilbur Jones, developer of a shopping center on Paradise Drive, had been so notified by William A. Adam, sanitary district manager.

The ban on new connections was recommended by the sanitary district board at its latest meeting. It is to be effective until a new pumping station is installed—with a time limit of 12 months for installing the station.

The district's pumping station on Paradise Drive, west of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad crossing, serves approximately 90 per cent of the district, the directors noted.

It has been overloaded for at least eight years and "it just can't take any more," Adam said.

The sanitary district has been refused construction of a new pumping station on commercially zoned property about 200 feet from the Embee Market.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission turned down the district's request for conditional use Jan. 22. The district appealed to the town council but was again refused Feb. 19. Nearby property owners complained that odors and noise annoy the neighborhood.

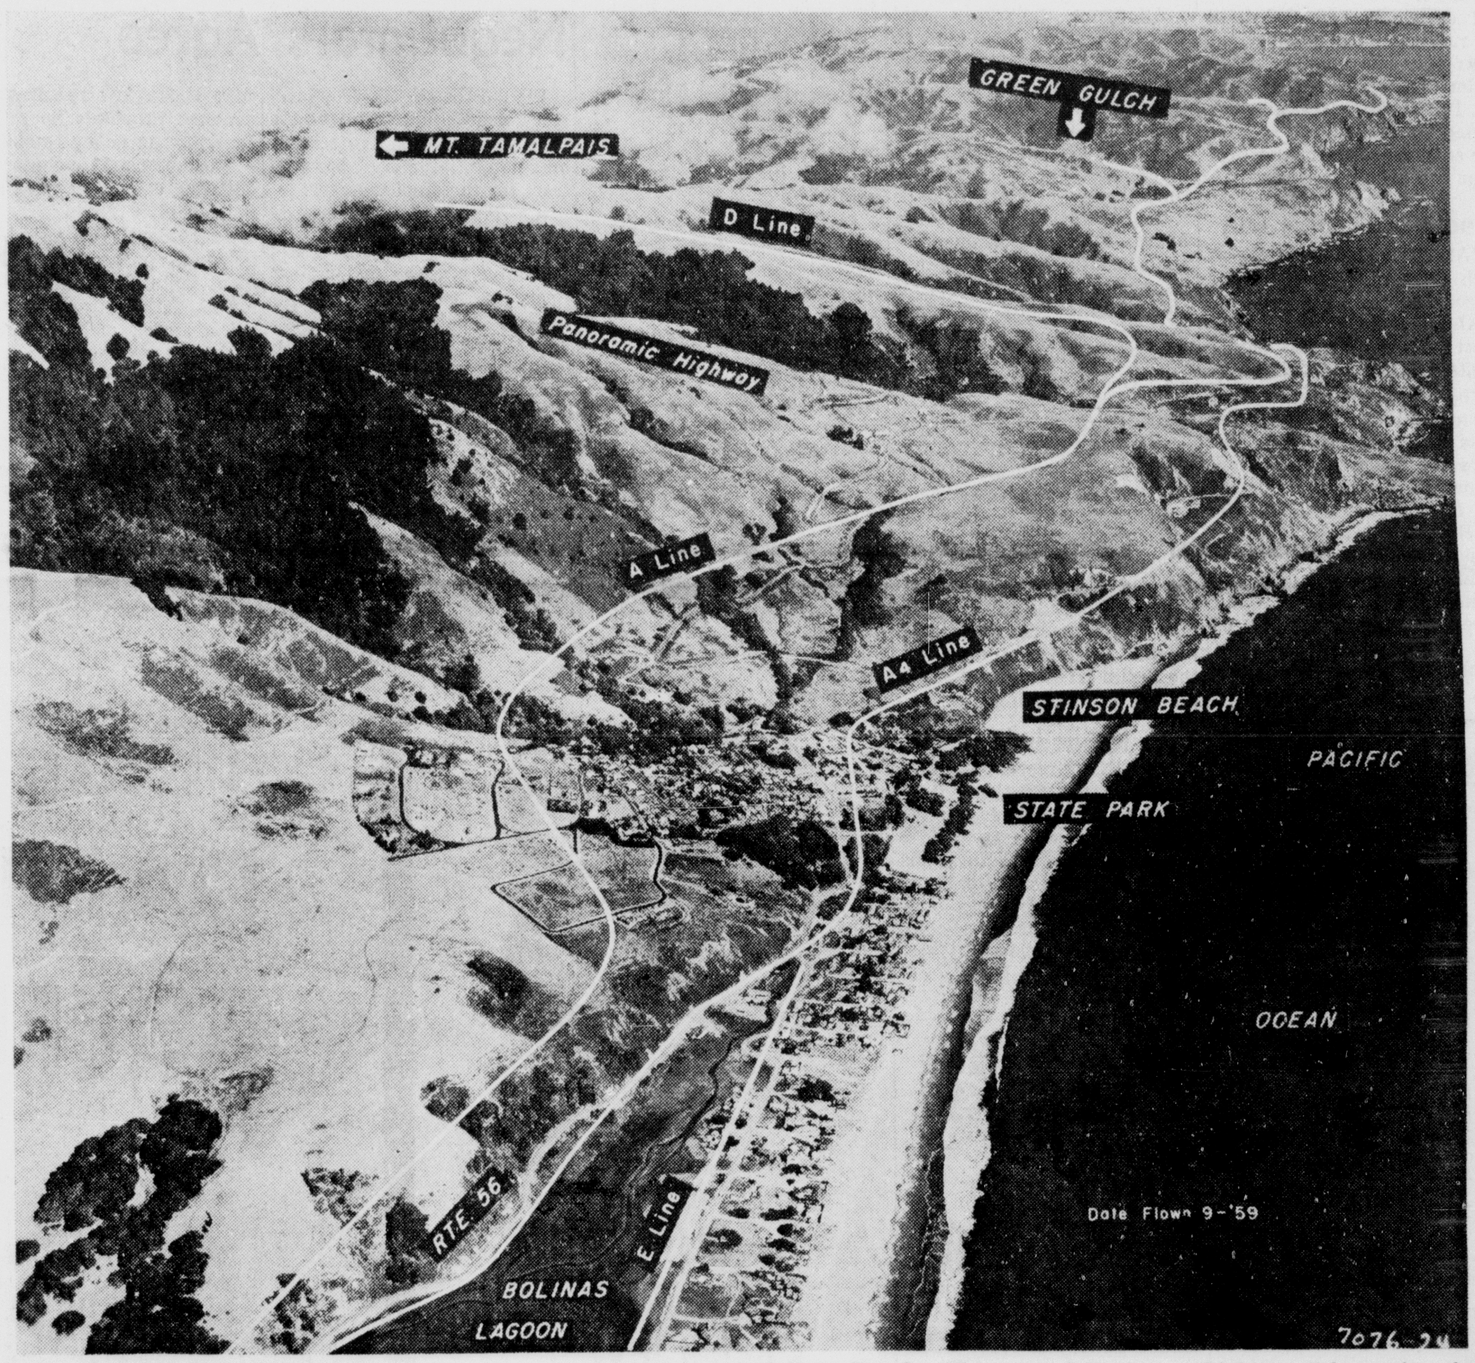

Jones is developer of a 22,000 square-foot shopping center on Paradise Drive. He received a letter from Adam advising of the decision of "no new sanitary connections." No public announcement had been made before Jones received the letter.

Valmar A. Schaaf, engineer for the shopping center, termed the decision an unprecedented action.

"I find it hard to understand how any sanitary district could allow itself to get in such an emergency situation. And if this is not the case, it is just a pressure action," Schaaf declared.

Corte Madera Building Inspector William G. McBride said he would continue to issue

BY-PASS FOR STINSON BEACH—"Line A" as shown on this aerial photo route-map was endorsed by the State Highway Commission yesterday for new routing of Shoreline Highway through Stinson Beach. The route follows the "high line," bypassing the coastal community. The commission also endorsed a route through Tennessee Valley which would eliminate Tamalpais Valley residents' objections to a widened highway through their community.

Retired Navy Man Running For Assessor

CHARLES R. BURTZ
Challenges Broemmel

A decorated Navy captain, who retired in 1959 after 20 years of service, will run against Assessor Bert W. Broemmel in the June 5 primary election.

Charles Richard Burtz, 54, of 711 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, announced yesterday he is running for assessor because he believes "present practices in assessing property are unequal."

"I have always been interested in politics," said Captain Burtz. "I have accrued a large number of friends. This looks like an opportune time to do some public good and at the same time do what I've always wanted to do."

A native of Georgia, he attended Georgia Tech for three years, majoring in electronics. He was in the Navy Reserve and working for Radio Corp. of America when called to active duty in 1939. He remained in the Navy for 20 years.

He was at Pearl Harbor at the time of the Japanese attack. He served on the heavy cruiser San Francisco through the war, winning nine decorations including a Purple Heart for action in the South Pacific.

Burtz served in the Philippines, at Honolulu, Moffett Field and at the 12th Naval District in San Francisco where he retired in 1950. He lived in Mill Valley from 1958 through August of 1961, then moved to Corte Madera, where he lives with his wife, Gudrun. They were married in San Diego last Dec. 27.

The captain has a son and a daughter from a previous marriage. Rhonda, 15, attends high school in Redwood City, and son, Don, 22, is at San Jose State College.

Besides his electronics studies at Georgia Tech, Captain Burtz studied foreign relations at San Diego, public speaking at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and the Japanese language in Honolulu.

Jurist Charles Whittaker Quits Bench

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Whittaker resigned today because of ill health.

The resignation, effective next Monday, was announced with "extreme regret" by President John F. Kennedy at his news conference.

Whittaker, 61, entered Walter Reed Army Medical Center March 6. He said his doctors told him a return to Supreme Court duty would "unduly jeopardize my future health."

A statement by the justice, issued by his office, said he had "reached a point of physical exhaustion from the great volume and continuous stresses of the court's work."

Kennedy, who lauded Whittaker's services as a jurist, said he will name a successor shortly. Asked if Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, might be named, the president said he would not speculate.

$33,300 Due For Widening Of Highway

The California State Highway Commission yesterday allocated $33,300 for widening of Highway 101 over Puerto Suello Hill.

The widening is to be between the Lincoln Avenue under crossing and San Pedro Road, to create an additional northbound lane over the crest of the hill, the scene of many accidents.

The area involved is that roughly parallel by the partially collapsed Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel.

NWP Tunnel Fill Estimate: $300,000

Two apartments damaged in the Puerto Suello tunnel fire last year were termed "squatters" by an attorney of Northwestern Pacific Railroad today at the company's abandonment hearing before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner in San Francisco.

Attorney Randolph Karr, after calling as witness T. M. Somppi, a railroad draftsman, was asked by examiner F. Roy Linn whether the damaged apartments would be a responsibility of Southern Pacific, owner of Northwestern Pacific.

"We claim they're squatters," replied Carr.

"Are we to understand," asked Linn, "that applicants feel no liability for the apartments if damaged by repair or rebuilding of the tunnel?"

Karr replied that this was the case, not only because of deeds but due to legal precedents, saying "they took a limited rather than a full title."

W. J. Jones, Southern Pacific engineer for maintenance of way, was recalled to the stand. He said that if the railroad is allowed to abandon the tunnel he would suggest only a "plugged filling" of the southern portal, near the apartment houses to prevent subsidence.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Shipping Strike In 14th Day

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Three striking unions and the Pacific Maritime Assn. (PMA) stood pat today as the West Coast shipping strike moved into its 14th day.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii arrived in San Francisco for meetings with officials of the PMA and striking seamen, firemen and cooks and stewards on the possibility of moving essential cargo from the West Coast to the islands.

Hawaii depends upon shipping for approximately 65 per cent of its food supply and the moving of its major exports. A prolonged walkout could have a critical effect on the island economy.

Syria Calm After Coup

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria remained calm today after the bloodless coup that toppled the right-wing civilian government. The new military rulers shortened the curfew they ordered by one hour.

The frontiers were still sealed, isolating this Mediterranean republic in the heart of the Middle East. Otherwise daily life went on normally with streets ordered cleared only from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Damascus Radio continued to tell the five million Syrians—long accustomed to upheavels—to prepare for a swing back toward the left from the anti-nationalization policies of deposed President Nazem El Koudsi's regime.

Eichmann Verdict

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's Supreme Court today rejected motions by Adolf Eichmann's attorney to hear new witnesses in the Nazi official's behalf and retired to frame its verdict on his appeal against the death sentence.

The high court handed down its ruling on the defense motions only 30 minutes after Eichmann's West German counsel, Dr. Robert Servatius, completed his final plea to save the condemned Gestapo officer from the gallows.

Indonesia Talks Out

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A high Indonesian official today discounted the possibility of further talks with the Dutch on West New Guinea and said a military clash is inevitable.

The official said Indonesia broke off the U.S.-sponsored talks last week because the were not prepared to accept Indonesia's demand for a transfer of administration of the Dutch-held territory Indonesia claims.

Indonesia does not believe a resumption of talks would serve any purpose because of the hostile attitude of the Dutch government, the official said.

Potsdam Liaison Curb

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) —The U.S. Army announced today it is suspending activities of its liaison mission in Potsdam, East Germany, and permitting the Soviet mission in West Germany to travel only with American escort.

An Army spokesman said this means members of the U.S. mission in East Germany would remain there but would not conduct their regular patrols around the country.

The mission has operated in the Soviet zone of Germany since the end of World War II.

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, the Army's European commander, announced the suspension in a statement terming "unacceptable" a Soviet reply to his protest over the shooting at an American Army vehicle March 20.

Dependents To Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government-paid travel of military families to Europe will resume by early May, key Pentagon officials predicted today.

Such travel by wives and children of Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine officers and men was suspended nearly six months ago at a time when the Berlin crisis military build-up was in full swing.

Mrs. Kennedy Kindness

MESSINI, Greece (AP) — This village in the Southern Peloponesus has made Jacqueline Kennedy and honorary citizen because she helped a local girl with a serious heart condition.

Mrs. Kennedy became interested in the case of Chrysanthemis (Memi) Papacotsis, 11, last July when the first lady toured Greece.

FAMED DOG DIES — King Buck, famous black Labrador featured on 1959-60 "duck stamp," died yesterday at Brighton, Ill. Probably the world's greatest retriever, the dog won national championships in 1952-53. It was the last dog to appear on a U.S. stamp. (UPI Photo)

Death In Freezer

CLINTON, S.C. (AP)—The bodies of three young children were found yesterday in one of three compartments of an abandoned freezer locker.

The victims were Phyllis Craig, 4, and Sylvia Craig, 3, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stonewall Craig; and Angelia Davis, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis.

Sheriff R. Eugene Johnson said Mrs. Davis had seen the children playing in her yard, and began looking for them when they disappeared from her sight. She found them in the freezer locker that was in the yard of the Davis home.

Engulfed In Flames

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Lyman Eastwood, 77, may pay with his life for trying to be helpful.

Fred Carlson, 16, was draining gasoline from a power mower yesterday in the basement of his home two doors away. He was too close to a water heater and the bucket of gasoline caught fire.

Eastwood saw the flames and hurried over. He tried to push the blazing bucket out the door with a snow shovel but the bucket turned over and he was engulfed in flames.

His condition was reported critical.

'History Is Turning Back In China'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's long-delayed National People's Congress — its rubber-stamp parliament — finally opened this week in Peiping against a backdrop of hunger and hard times at home and quarreling in the world Communist camp.

All the leaders of Chinese communism — with one exception—were present for the inaugural session in the Great Hall of the People, which flanks the Square of Heavenly Peace.

The exception was Marshal Peng Teh-huai, who dropped from sight in September 1959, soon after being relieved as minister of defense. A vice premier and member of the powerful Politburo of the Communist Party, he is reported being disciplined for opposing Chairman Mao Tze-tung's ambitious communes program and the "great leap forward" in industry and agriculture.

Time has proved the marshal right. As the Congress began hearing reports from officials, the communes were a recognized failure, and the great leap has been slowed to a standstill.

Mao, the architect of Chinese communism, appeared healthy and in good spirits, belying reports that he is ill.

A radio photograph from Peiping showed him, dressed in his customary gray tunic, smilingly shaking hands with deputies. The photograph revealed little outward change in Mao over the past few years. He is less bulky, and his round face has become more angular with age, but his hair is only slightly touched with gray.

Since the last Congress in March 1960, natural calamities and generally poor planning have brought about disastrously inadequate harvests.

In the past 12 months Mao has given agriculture emergency first aid by decentralizing control of the vast commune system which had herded some 500 million peasants into 26,000 military-style centralized farm camps.

In effect, he has turned back history and handed control of the land to smaller, more workable groups similar to the precommunes producer cooperatives.

At the same time he has reverted to a controlled type of capitalism on the farm, permitting the peasant to grow much of his own food and livestock on privately owned plots of land. The farmer now is allowed to sell what he grows, and the handicrafts he makes at home, in capitalist-style country fairs.

During the current period of readjustment, which will last a long time, the Red economists admit industry's goals have been sharply pared. Vast projects have been quietly shelved. Factories have been ordered to turn out more fertilizers, farm machines, and consumer goods for the farmer.

A staggering exodus, in which millions have participated, has been carried out from the cities to the countryside in an attempt to halt the threat of agricultural disaster.

Along with these domestic difficulties, an historic dispute now divides Peiping and Moscow.

It centers around Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's opposition to the continued employment of hard Stalinist policies, both at home and on the international front. The Red Chinese regard Stalin's policy of unyielding antagonism to the West and his belief that war with imperialism is inevitable as the only correct one.

The split came into the open with Khrushchev's denunciation of Albanian Stalinism last October and Premier Chou En-lai's criticism of Khrushchev for washing the dirty Communist linen in public. The Red Chinese leadership still seems determined to do the washing in private. For the first time foreign diplomats and foreign newsmen in Peiping have been barred from the Congress sessions.

Reports Say Steel Negotiators Agree

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Top-level steel negotiators reportedly have reached broad agreement on a non-inflationary labor contract for the steel industry.

Reliable Washington sources said the chief bargainers for the union and the major steel firms reached agreement on a two-year contract yesterday. The United Steelworkers' Union international executive board and international wage policy committee have been summoned to meet here Saturday. Union law requires that contract proposals be ratified by the wage policy committee.

The union's 11 company negotiating committees will meet Sunday.

As currently described, the new pact appears to meet President John F. Kennedy's call for an early settlement, without a strike, and without inflationary provisions.

Coming three months ahead of the June 30 expiration date of existing contracts, the reported agreement would head off both a steel strike and a potentially dangerous rush to stockpile steel against the possibility of such a strike.

The worst avalanche disaster recorded was in 1916 in the Alps, where a series of snowslides killed 10,000 people.

YOU KNOW, TRADING STAMPS

Government Doesn't Bother To Lick All Its Coupons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't ask Uncle Sam what happens to the trading stamps he gets with his purchases.

He doesn't rightly know.

The reason for his ignorance officials explained today, is that it would probably cost him more to find out than the stamps are worth.

"If we called for reports to Washington accounting for the stamps, we'd have to enlarge the bureaucracy," they say. "A lot of valuable paper and high-powered stenographers would go to waste on trivia."

Not that the government lacks a firm policy. When a federal employee buys something for the government and gets stamps, he's supposed to turn them into his office. Then the office is supposed to redeem them for things it needs, like a new desk lamp for the boss, or turn them over to federal hospitals. But no costly bookkeeping, the instructions say; no reports with 14 carbon copies.

In case they've escaped your notice, trading stamps are little coupons handed to shoppers at hosts of retail stores across the country. You get one stamp with each 10 cents worth of merchandise; then you stick them in books, usually 1,200 or 1,500 to a book. When you've stuck in enough you can get premiums.

Though it is the world's biggest buyer, the government does not collect as many stamps as you might think. For example, none came with the new aircraft carrier Enterprise. What a stamp-licking job that would have been! The ship cost 440 million dollars, which would have meant 4.4 billion stamps.

But federal employees driving cars on official business may stop at gas stations which give stamps. And there is a certain amount of other buying at retail—strawberries or perishable vegetables in season, for example. Nobody here knows just how much of the total buying is done at stores that handle stamps.

Government policy on the stamps was firmed up in May 1960, as the result of a bit of a furor. Rumors had spread that the government had big hoards of stamps it did not know what to do with.

Clergymen wrote in asking for them, so they could get new organs for their churches. One housewife pledged to lick all the government's stamps, if she could keep half of them.

So the General Services Administration, federal housekeeper, and the General Accounting Office, federal watchdog, put their heads together. They decided the government couldn't legally give stamps away. The result was a directive to agencies: Redeem them at the lowest organizational level, with a minimum of accounting. Or hand them over to government hospitals. And you needn't report to Washington.

'Beatnik Types' Jailed As Dope Suspects

Two Larkspur men, described as "beatnik types" by Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark, were arrested today on charges of possession of narcotics.

William Anthony Bosia, 24, of 801 Magnolia Avenue, and Charles Anton, 23, of 52 Millard Road, were booked in the county jail after Larkspur police found marijuana and hypodermic needles in their homes.

A two and one-half inch high marijuana plant was also found growing from a pot on a bedroom window sill of the Anton house.

Larkspur Patrolman James Neubert had been watching the two houses for a month, Clark said.

Neubert, Clark and Patrolman George Newman went to the Bosia house today at 7 a.m. with a search warrant, and arrested Bosia after finding marijuana seeds and a hypodermic needle.

The policemen then went to the Anton house and arrested the second suspect. A six-month-old daughter remained with Anton's wife at the family home after the arrest. Bosia lived alone.

Clark said both suspects had prior narcotic records. He said Bosia was to appear in San Francisco next Monday to answer to a possession of narcotics charge. He was free on bail when arrested by Larkspur police.

Neither of the suspects was employed, Clark said.

The two were to appear in municipal court this afternoon.

Lagunitas School Tax Hike Asked

Lagunitas School District trustees last night called for a tax increase of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The increase will be voted on in the June 5 election, would raise the total tax, including 18 cents override taxes, to $2.93 per $100 assessed valuation.

The estimated $16,875 raised through the increase would go toward teacher salary increases, maintenance costs of the five classrooms and multi-purpose room recently added to the school, additional teachers and teaching equipment, Supt. Clifford L. Frye said.

Frye reported present enrollment at 402 pupils as compared with 373 at this time last year.

The next regular meeting of the board will be at the Lagunitas School on April 12 at 8 p.m.

Another Pitbull Case Due Trial —Starving One

Muir Beach rancher Joseph Cabral Santos, 54, accused of starving a pitbull terrier, will fight the charge in a jury trial set for May 10 and 11.

The trial dates were set yesterday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. Santos appeared in court yesterday with attorney Walter Freitas and pleaded innocent to a charge of cruelty to animals.

The pitbull is Coley, one of the dogs that appeared in the Sequeira dog fighting trial last January. The Sequeiras, of Marinwood, had traded the dog to Santos after the trial.

Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, said the 65-pound Coley was down to about 14 pounds when picked up at the Santos ranch on March 16.

Cuba Is Trying 1,182 Prisoners

HAVANA (UPI)—Trial of 1,182 war prisoners captured after last year's Bay of Pigs invasion started today in Havana Principe Prison.

A five-man military tribunal sat in judgment on the prisoners. The public was barred. The only newsmen present represented the local press and "friendly countries."

It was the biggest mass trial in Cuban political history.

He estimated the cost at $25,000 or less.

At this point, 19 photographs taken by the Independent-Journal photographer Dick Steinheimer were introduced. The camera had been tied to the end of a 25-foot pole lowered into a hole which gave access at that time to the burned tunnel. Jones said these were the only pictures which had been taken of the interior of the tunnel since the fire.

Under questioning by Boris H. Lakusta, attorney for the city of San Rafael, Jones said that there may be further cracking of the ground.

"Assuming that Northwestern Pacific is wrong," said Lakusta, "and it has the liability to prevent subsiding, have you made an estimate as to what should be done?"

Jones said his only work had been "to consider a practical method for boring holes from above and putting in under pressure sand or pea gravel." He said a rough estimate of the cost of that would be $300,000.

Final witness of the morning was Thor H. Sjostrand, Southern Pacific transportation analyst who was expected to be on the stand for several hours. He started a lengthy analysis of traffic changes if the tunnel is not used again and mentioned 1,146 cars of rock, sand and gravel brought through the tunnel from the north during the first five months of 1961.

"We assume all this would be lost," said the witness.

He added that the same would be true of lumber from the north which totaled 43 cars for the same period.

An exhibit introduced at this point indicated rapidly falling railroad receipts just before the tunnel fire, with a return of 4.19 per cent during 1959 on an investment of just over 30 million dollars, as compared with only .9 of 1 per cent for 1960.

Today was the fourth day in a series of hearings started in January and thus far requiring three different locations. The session today was at the Whitcomb Hotel. Another session will be held tomorrow in the same room and it is expected that resumption will be April 11.

building permits, noting that the applicant must notify the sanitary district. McBride said certificates of occupancy would not be granted until sewer connections are made.

The sanitary board will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the district office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, on purchase of property for a new pumping station.

A possible location for the larger pumping station would be a few feet from the existing station on property owned by Charles E. Shelley and others. An attempt to purchase this property will be made, Adam said.

Jones said today he would "of course attend the sanitary district meeting Tuesday night."

KENNEDY

ing the budget for fiscal 1963, but said the administration will have a better idea when first quarter reports on economic developments are in. If the recovery is well sustained, he said, there will still be a budget balance, despite his recent request for a new 600-million-dollar public works program.

Nuclear Initiative—Kennedy was asked to elaborate on a statement attributed to him that it could not be assumed there are no conditions under which the United States might take the initiative in nuclear conflict. This is merely a restatement of a previous position, he said. He referred to a statement saying there was no intention to suggest the United States would launch a preemptive attack on its own, but rather that if there were something like an attack on Europe, the U.S. then would move to meet its commitments.

Common Market—Kennedy said fears some industries would not get protection that they need under agreements with the European Common Market were unfounded. He said safeguards are included in bills sent to Congress. Some of these safeguards, he said, were a disappointment to friends abroad, but this country has some serious problems and industries which were affected too adversely will have protection.

Nixon—Kennedy, who once said he had an opinion as to whether former Vice President Richard M. Nixon should run for governor of California, was asked if he would state that opinion now. No, Kennedy said. He added that he had said he would give his opinion to Nixon but Nixon hasn't asked for it.

No Stinson Meeting

There was no meeting of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District commissioners last night because of lack of a quorum. A new meeting date will be set, according to Harriet M. Greene, secretary.

Novato Meeting Set To Study Superintendent

A special meeting of the Novato Unified School District board to study nine applications for superintendent of Novato schools will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the administration building.

Dr. Theodore Reller of University of California headed a committee to screen applications for the superintendent's job. Reller yesterday reported to Earl Marshall, board chairman, that his committee selected the nine from more than 80 applications received.

Supt. William J. J. Smith gave the board his resignation last Dec. 19, but rescinded it on March 14. On March 25, Arthur M. Lebow, Smith's attorney, filed a suit to regain the position for Smith. Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating's court has set April 9 for hearing on an order to the board to show cause why Smith's contract should not be renewed.

IN ROME—Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor presented this picture recently in Rome where it has been rumored she is in love with British actor Richard Burton, her male lead in the film "Cleopatra." (AP Wirephoto)

Eddie In, Out Of N.Y. Hospital; Is Marriage To Liz Breaking Up?

(COMBINED AP & UPI)

NEW YORK — Singer Eddie Fisher, who has denied that his marriage to Elizabeth Taylor is on the rocks, was in seclusion "with friends" today after a two day rest at a private East Side hospital.

Milt Blackstone, long-time manager of the 33-year-old entertainer, said Fisher cut short his stay at Gracie Square Hospital on advice of his physician, Dr. Max Jacobson. He said Jacobson felt the public might get the wrong impression because the hospital was identified in newspapers as a mental hospital.

"It also has a section for general medical patients and Eddie was in that section," Blackstone said. "He had expected to rest there until Friday but now he is resting with friends here in the city instead. He says he feels fine."

The hospital said Fisher checked out late last night.

Since his arrival here last week on business, Fisher had denied the breakup of his marriage to Miss Taylor, although it was rumored and reported in Rome and elsewhere. However, his haggard appearance indicated he was either unwell or under strain.

But the New York Daily News says the singer is "crushed by the apparent collapse of his marriage with Liz Taylor has suffered a nervous breakdown."

Blackstone said Louis Nizer, counsel for Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor, had issued this statement:

"Mr. Fisher is simply resting for a few days at a general hospital at the suggestion of his physician. All rumors of a more serious illness are unfounded.

"I have advised Miss Taylor in Rome of Eddie going to a hospital for a brief rest and she is comforted by the fact that the published statements of his condition are untrue."

The copyrighted story in the Daily News said, "the prospect of divorce proved too much for the young singer."

Miss Taylor, 30, recently was linked romantically with Richard Burton, her male lead in "Cleopatra." The Fishers and Burton, who is married, have denied the reports.

North Marin Advance Stops Publication

The North Marin Advance ceased publication yesterday after one year of existence.

The weekly newspaper, serving Terra Linda, Marinwood and Santa Venetia, was started a year ago by the Marin Publishing Co., publisher of the Novato Advance.

In a notice in yesterday's edition, announcing its suspension, publisher George A. Barnwell said:

"Unfortunately the costs of publishing a regular full-scale newspaper devoted exclusively to local news were greater than the revenue that could be realized. . . .

"Realistic appraisal of the situation forces the suspension of the North Marin Advance, no matter how much we would like to continue the publication."

Most St. Bernard dogs are a mixture of short-haired Mastiff with strains of Great Dane, Swiss herding dog, Great Pyrenees and Newfoundland.

It is Secor's second try for the Mill Valley City Council. He was an unsuccessful candidate two years ago.

These are the four whose names will appear on Mill Valley ballots:

JOSEPH E. SHEEKS

GOP Training Session Under Way In Marin

Training sessions for Marin County Republican captains and block workers are under way, with all but a few of the county's 347 precincts manned for the June 5 primaries, according to Mrs. Harry S. Sherry, precinct chairman and women's vice chairman of the GOP County Central Committee.

David Winslow of Tiburon, county chairman, announced appointment of two associate committee members at a meeting Tuesday night. They are Mrs. Roy I. Ibach of Mill Valley, absentee ballot chairman, and Jim Heynemann of Belvedere, head of Teen-Age Republicans.

Don Clausen, Republican candidate for Congress in the First District, will speak at an April 11 breakfast meeting at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera, it was announced.

Mrs. Sherry is to leave April 9 for Washington, D.C., to attend a national Republican women's conference.

Europe Ski Trip Ends—No Skiing

Dr. Bradford Simmons, surgeon at San Quentin Prison's Neumiller Hospital, has returned from a 30-day European ski trip—but he didn't do any skiing.

The tour of Europe was sponsored by the Far Western Ski Assn., but Dr. Simmons said he and his wife went along "mainly to see our son in Paris." His son, George, a Harvard University graduate, is at the University of Paris graduate school of political science.

Stinson Traffic Petitions Up

Petitions with spaces for affirmative and negative votes on proposed revision of the Stinson Beach traffic ordinance are on display at Bill's Superette for a sounding of community sentiment up to next Tuesday.

This course was decided on at a recent poorly attended meeting of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club, where is was felt that too few were present to justify recommendation on proposals for parking and speed limit and for one-way traffic .

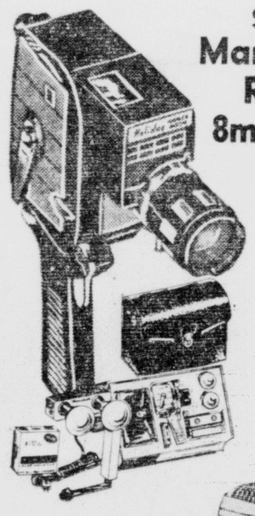

The club's traffic committee is expected to make recommendation to the club on a basis of petition signatures.

Floods Hit Midwest Towns

DESERTED TOWN—Virtually all of the small town of Waterloo, Neb., 15 miles west of Omaha, was under way today as a result of the flooding Elkhorn River. Hardly anyone was left in town outside the business district. (AP Wirephoto)

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hundreds of persons were temporarily homeless and property damage mounted today as flood waters from swollen rivers and streams in Nebraska and Iowa dealt more damaging blows.

In Nebraska, overflows from the surging North Fork River (a branch of the Elkhorn) spilled across some 100 blocks in the residential district and much of the business section of Norfolk, a city of 13,200 in the northeast part of the state.

In Iowa, hundreds of National Guardsmen and volunteers patrolled the built-up dikes of the east side of Sioux City, a town of 89,000 threatened by the flood waters of the swollen Floyd River.

In the flood belt west of Omaha most of the 550 residents in the village of Waterloo had left their homes as the Elkhorn River overflowed.

Several hundred persons already have left homes in Sioux City, in the northwest part of the state. Other persons left their homes in Cherokee, a town of 7,700 on the Little Sioux River, and at Charles City, a town of 10,000 in northwest Iowa on the Cedar River.

In Sioux City, a half million sandbags have been placed atop the dikes extending for 10 miles to Leeds, and officials expressed hope the flood waters will be held back. The Floyd, which flows into the Missouri River through the Sioux City stockyards district, was expected to crest at 22.5 feet, 6.5 feet above flood stage this afternoon or tonight.

Thousands of acres of farm land were covered with water in the two states. Some flooding also was reported in sections of Minnesota, Missouri and Illinois.

In Rochester, Minn., flood waters from the Zumbro River and Bear Creek, which join in the downtown district, lapped at the Mayo Civic Auditorium and spread into some parts of the business and residential districts.

Mayors Vote Semi-Annual Chairmen

Official representatives from Marin's 10 incorporated communities last night decided to put a little punch in the programming of their organization, the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

The group, meeting at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse, started off by moving to put that name in the organization's by-laws.

The name was suggested by San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis and San Rafael Councilman Charles W. Aby to "clarify" the meaning of the group's membership.

The group's official title has been the Marin County Mayors Conference.

Reaffirmed was a section of the by-laws giving to each city one vote. This was opposed by Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar of Fairfax, who thought each councilman in cities other than San Rafael should have a right to vote. His reasoning: Only San Rafael has an elected mayor; councilman in other cities and towns rotate the chairmanship.

It was explained that a one-vote-per-city system would appear to give the organization a more united front, and that the vote of each city could be decided by the council, and cast by the mayor, any councilman or a city manager.

The group rejected an attempt to form an executive committee of five members, and substituted a chairman to serve half a year.

The idea was offered by Aby in an effort to give the council more continuity and better program. Heretofore the chairmanship rotated each meeting, depending on the host city.

The council voted that the mayor of Novato, whoever it may be after the April election, will be the first chairman to serve six months.

This was because Novato City Administrator J. Julian Baget, who helped prepare last night's program, would be the man behind the man during the organizational change.

The group also voted to form, but not as part of the formal organization, a city managers and city clerks committee.

In further stating the principles on county-city services, which are financed with funds derived from countywide taxes, should be made available to all the taxpayers of the county on the same basis," and that "county services . . . available only to certain areas . . . should be self-supporting or financed by special . . . taxes."

The new managers committee will review these changes and present them for formal adoption at the April meeting in Ross.

Last night's host was Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber.

Old Mill School Addition Begins

Construction work has begun on the four-room addition to Old Mill School with demolition of the service garage.

The project, along with work on four other schools in Mill Valley School District, is expected to be completed by the opening of school next September.

Work is about one-third completed on Edna Maguire School, with roof work expected to begin by week's end. This is a six-room addition.

At neighboring Alto School, construction, held up by rains, has begun on three rooms.

Concrete foundations have been completed for three rooms at Tamalpais Valley School, and work is about one-third completed on a three-room addition at Marin Terrace School, Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson said.

Frondizi Deposed By Coup

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The armed forces finally deposed President Arturo Frondizi today in a bloodless, slow-motion coup and sent him to an isolated island for detention.

The military chiefs said they acted because the president, 53, had lost his grip politically and no longer was able to cope with resurgent Peronists and possible social disorders.

But as the generals, admirals and air force chiefs watched an air force plane carry Frondizi over the horizon they faced another problem—a successor to the deposed president.

Their announced selection for the job, Jose Maria Guido, Senate president and good friend of Frondizi, had not said he would accept.

The coup was finally executed 24 hours after the preliminary moves were made to occupy strategic control points throughout Argentina.

A naval officer, with a convoy of five cars, went to Frondizi's luxurious suburban home and placed him under arrest at 7:46 a.m. A small crowd outside the residence sang the national anthem. The tall, gaunt president, who had won out in 34 previous crises in his four-year rule, was driven to the airport and put on a plane for Martin Garcia Island in the River Plate.

On this island ex-dictator Juan D. Peron was imprisoned in 1945 when he was vice president. Many of the military leaders who watched Frondizi go were the ones who forced Peron's final downfall in 1955.

The slow action of the coup apparently was due to division and indecision within the ranks of the military. Also playing a possible part was hesitation over the reaction of the United States and the effect of a military take-over on the multibillion-dollar Alliance for Progress Program.

The final showdown came on the 12th day of a crisis precipitated by national elections in which Peronists captured five governorships and shared in others and gained 45 seats in the national Congress.

The military foes of Peron blamed Frondizi for allowing Peron's followers to stage the smashing comeback.

Accompanying Frondizi to Martin Garcia Island, 30 miles southeast of Buenos Aires, was his good friend, David Blejer, former minister of labor.

The three armed forces chiefs announced that Senate President Jose Maria Guido, next in line of presidential succession under the constitution, would succeed Frondizi.

There was no immediate announcement from Guido, however, that he would take the post. And Hector Gomez Machado, who heads Frondizi's Intransigent Radical Party in the Chamber of Deputies, said he would not. Guido is also a member of the Intransigent Radicals.

Guido had stood by Frondizi earlier in the crisis and said he would not supplant him. But military sources said Guido had accepted the presidency after Frondizi told him it was the best way for the country.

Tiburon Incorporation Group Plans Gala Fund -Raising Event

Rather than go back to property owner groups and individuals for the money needed to complete incorporation procedures, the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council last night decided to hold a gala fund-raising event.

Finance chairman Lee C. Megan proposed a bay cruise with music, dancing and a buffet supper, and tentatively set April 27.

Proceeds will be used for voter education.

John P. Eichorn, Tiburon Peninsula Incorporation Committee chairman, said he had written the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce in response to its proposal for a new study on the basis that the Griffenhagen-Kroeger report contained errors.

"The chamber of commerce was notably absent from previous contributions," Eichorn said. "If the report has a few errors, we will see them and correct them."

He said committees are being formed to study roads, sanitation, police and fire, zoning and recreation and parks.

Clark M. Palmer Jr., who was chairman of the Novato Home Rule Committee and is now Novato city attorney, told the group he was amazed how accurate its study had been, and except for an odd boundary the incorporation had proceeded smoothly and everyone seemed happy.

Governor Lacks Votes For Budget Passage

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republicans mounted a challenging attack on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's three-billion-dollar state financing program today.

The Democratic administration, with a bare Assembly majority, clearly lacked enough votes as yet to put through the governor's 2.9-billion-dollar budget and 820-million dollars in bond issues on his own terms.

The Assembly's Republican caucus, told by Brown to "put up or shut up," proposed a 31-million-dollar economy program. Only 10-million dollars, however, would come directly out of the budget.

Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan (R-Tracy), chairman of a GOP budget "task force," said other Republicans would submit separate amendments which he estimated might run as high as 50-million dollars in cuts.

The Assembly plans to vote on the budget tomorrow.

Stripped of the urgency clause, the bill will require only 41 votes, instead of 54, for passage to the Senate. But the administration will have to round up Republican support for the two-thirds vote necessary for final passage.

Republicans showed a solid front yesterday in Assembly approval of amendments placing Brown's 200-million-dollar school bond measure on the June ballot. The party-line vote was 40-33. The Assembly has 44 Democrats, 34 Republicans, two vacancies.

"I am gravely concerned about the future of the bond bill," said Assemblyman Richard T. Hanna (D-Garden Grove) who introduced it for the governor. "I certainly don't see 54 votes right now."

The Republicans insist that all four bond measures advocated by the governor go on the November ballot. Brown wants to submit the school and a state construction bond issue on the June ballot in order, he says, to avoid delays in projects.

The Republican economy package was unwrapped a few hours after Brown told his news conference that GOP assemblymen had failed to come up with any specific budget cuts.

GOP Caucus Chairman John A. Busterud of San Francisco declared that the governor apparently wasn't aware of what the Republicans have been doing. He said:

Governor Brown's reaction to our activities on the Ways and Means Committee has been like a punchdrunk fighter's. His hearing is not so good."

Talented Daddy

SAN DIEGO (AP)—On the way to the country to show his two small sons some real, live cows, Harry Ragen, an attorney, did some educational mooing. After hearing the real thing, Denny, 4, observed, "Daddy, you moo better than the cows."

Lieutenant Governor Race Gets Democrat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson announced his candidacy for the lieutenant governorship yesterday.

Immediately he turned political heat on the incumbent, Glenn M. Anderson. Both are Democrats.

"The suggestion has been made to me," said McKesson, "that there are criminal influences who would like to support Anderson that want to get a foothold in the state . . .

"I do not say he is aligned with a criminal element, but I want to make sure they do not get a toehold.

"I think there are those engaged in criminal activities who are prone to think they could use him."

In Sacramento, Anderson criticized McKesson for making "slick, irresponsible charges." He termed the McKesson remarks "preposterous nonsense."

Ostrich Snake?

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A reptile called the shovel-nosed ground snake burrows deep into the desert sand to escape the heat. UCLA zoologists believe it has a built-in alarm clock to get it ready for its nocturnal visits to the surface.

OROVILLE DAM SITE

Price For Railroad Opposed In State

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill intended to cut the price the state must pay for a little railroad which runs through the Oroville Dam site has hit strong opposition in the Assembly Water Committee.

The committee delayed a vote on the measure yesterday a few hours after Gov. Edmund G. Brown had called it one of the most important bills before the legislature.

The railroad is an 18-mile affair owned by the Georgia-Pacific Corp., used to carry lumber from its mill at Feather Falls to a connection with the Western Pacific near Oroville.

B. Abbott Goldberg, deputy director of water resources, told the committee the department is stymied in efforts to acquire the railroad's right-of-way so the dam can be built.

Present law, he said, might require the state to pay four to 10 million dollars to relocate the line, provide the company with alternate trucking facilities, or relocate the mill in Oroville.

But Goldberg said the railroad is only worth "several hundred thousand dollars" and the Finance Department has refused to approve millions on grounds it would be an unconstitutional gift of public funds.

The bill would change the law to allow the department to ask the Public Utilities Commission to set a value on the road, and to allow the state to take immediate possession without waiting for completion of negotiations with the railroad.

The measure was opposed by an attorney for Georgia-Pacific and a spokesman for the county Supervisors Assn.

Thomas Jones, assistant counsel for Butte County, said he had "serious reservations" about it.

Philip O. Wilkins of Sacramento, attorney for the railroad, says the company is willing to settle for whatever alternative under present law is least costly to the state.

"Changing the rules in the middle of the game would present serious constitutional questions," he said.

The railroad has been asked by Utilities Commission to determine how the railroad should be replaced and where.

Wilkins also said the company will ask the federal Interstate Commerce Commission to delay permission for Western Pacific to start using new state-built tracks around the dam site until the Feather Falls Railroad question is settled.

If WP moves to new tracks in September, as planned, it would sever its connection with the Feather Falls line.

Ehrlich Changes His Mind About Speaking Tonight

Philip S. Ehrlich Sr., treasurer and counsel of Marine World Corp., will not speak on Marine World at a meeting of the Redwood Democratic Club tonight as scheduled.

Club member Charles Crawford, said Ehrlich has decided he would be open to criticism as trying to push the project on a political basis.

Dr. Alfred J. Rider, chairman of the Mill Valley Citizens Advisory Committee, will summarize Marine World developments and speak against the proposal, Crawford said.

The meeting at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Golf clubhouse is a candidates' night. Four candidates for Mill Valley Council will speak and answer questions.

Teachers Urged Be Active Citizens

Novato teachers were urged by a Sonoma State College professor last night to be "informed and politically active citizens."

About 60 members of the Novato Teachers Assn., meeting in the multipurpose room of Marion School, heard the advice in a talk on "The Role of the Teacher in the Political Community" by Dr. Cherl Pedersen, professor of education.

Refreshments were served at the group's monthly meeting by teachers from Lu Sutton School.

Pleads Innocent To Drunk Driving

A San Francisco jazz musician who works at the Club Hangover pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of drunken driving and demanded a jury trial in Marin Municipal Court.

Ralph Earl Sutton, 39, of Box 121, Forest Knolls appeared with attorney Harry Wainwright before Judge Harold J. Haley and denied he was intoxicated while driving on Highway 101 last Sunday. Sutton has a previous conviction for drunken driving in December of 1958.

The judge set April 23 and 24 as the time for a jury trial.

Dixie Grants Pay Hike For Teachers

Dixie School District teachers last night were given a beginning pay boost of $300 and a raise of $150 yearly for 12 years seniority.

District trustees agreed to raise beginning teachers next year from $4,500 yearly to $4,800. Top scale after 12 years, a master's degree and 15 units of additional college credit, was set at $8,700.

"The board realizes that the top salary is lower than most of the districts in the county," said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. "But because the district has no teachers at the top level, the trustees agreed to spend the year in study to determine how high the top salary should go."

(Present top scale at three districts of comparable size are: San Jose, $9,120; Kentfield, $9,100; Mill Valley, $8,000. The Mill Valley School District board is asking for a tax increase to increase salaries there.)

Dixie principals were raised from a beginning salary of $7,013 to $7,425. Top for principals was set at $12,581, compared to the present $11,285.

The assistant superintendent's salary was raised from $11,250 to $12,750. Salary of the superintendent was increased from $13,500 to $14,500. The curriculum consultant was increased from $10,500 to $12,000.

The board agreed to ask the opinion of the county counsel as to whether the district would be responsible for partial financing of Montecillo Road if it were moved from its present location on the master plan to a route adjoining school district property.

A proposal was made at Tuesday night's meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission to re-route the road to allow construction of a hospital by Marin Director Rafael G. Dufficy.

A special meeting was set for April 4 at 8 p.m. in the district office for evaluating and deciding on employment of principals, psychologist, librarians and nurse.

Motorcycle 'Buyers,' Wheel Into Pokey

There were too many buyers and too many sellers of a motorcycle at Hamilton Air Force Base, so two "buyers" joined one "seller" in jail.

S/Sgt. Paul D. Boytte of the Air Police saw two youths trying to start a motorcycle beside a barracks on Aberdeen Drive at 12:30 a.m. today. He questioned them.

The two 18-year-olds, Jeffrey Michael Paganini of 60 Fairfax Street and Woodrow Wilson Fitzsimmons of 255 Canal Street, both San Rafael, said Bruce E. Spangler of San Rafael had offered to sell them the cycle and told them to pick it up there.

But just then, A/2c Stephen J. Lipski walked up and said he was buying the motorcycle from A/2c Charles E. Bernier, a fellow member of the 78th Armament and Electronics Squadron.

Bernier was summoned and confirmed he was selling the motorbike to Lipski.

Sergeant Boyette turned Paganini and Fitzsimmons over to Novato police. And when police took them to the Marin County Jail, they found it had been quitted only March 16 by Spangler, who was arrested by San Anselmo police on Jan. 3 for burglary.

Spangler's current address: Deuel Vocational Institution at Tracy, a California Youth Authority facility.

Intoxicated Driving: Jail

Howard Lyle Akers, 45, of 114 Nelson Avenue, Mill Valley, must serve five days in county jail and pay $276 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated along South Miller Avenue on March 4. Akers had a prior conviction only last month.

Joseph Burton Olson, 39, of 828 Marin Drive, Mill Valley, drew $198 fine and six months probation. Olson was arrested on Highway 101 on Feb. 16.

Horace Patton, 36, of Hamilton Air Force Base must pay $110 fine and remain on six months probation. Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Patton for drunken driving on Highway 101 near Marin City last Dec. 8.

Stinson-Bolinas School Budget Is Discussed

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District last night discussed the preliminary budget for fiscal 1962-63 but took no action.

The budget will be discussed next at the trustees April 11 meeting, clerk Arthur E. Carpenter said.

9 Musicians From Marin Answer Szell

Nine Marin members of the San Francisco Symphony agreed today that Cleveland symphony conductor George Szell's attack on the state of music in San Francisco was too undefined to warrant much comment.

Szell released to the press Tuesday night another reason for his curtailed engagement as guest conductor of the San Francisco Symphony than the official "need of rest."

He wrote, "I found . . . the saddest state of musical affairs I have encountered in any American or European city during the almost 50 years of my conducting career."

Charles Meacham of Mill Valley, principal of the orchestra's second violin section, said: "As far as I know the relationship between members of the orchestra and Mr. Szell was the perfectly normal one between any orchestra and guest conductor. Nobody in the orchestra knows what he means by this statement."

Cellist Jean Mattos Maguire of Mill Valley agreed. "The orchestra wasn't aware of any displeasure with the performances on Mr. Szell's part," she said, "but Mr. Szell is noted for a difficult temperament."

Said violinist Lucien Mitchell of Mill Valley, chairman of the orchestra committee: "The relations with Mr. Szell were all right, and we had some beautiful concerts. We don't know what happened. But he is known all over the world as being difficult in his relations with everyone. I think he may have used this as a way of getting a lot of publicity."

Fairfax Home Robbed: $735

A $735 burglary in a Fairfax home was reported today by Police Chief James Orr.

He said that some time between noon and 4 p.m. yesterday a side window was broken in the home of Jean Innes, 218 Forrest Avenue, and these articles were taken: a German make radio valued at $300, $125 tape recorder, a 35-millimeter movie camera valued at $85 and another camera worth $25.

Almost All Loot Recovered In Sausalito Burglary

More loot from the Christmas Eve burglary of the Sausalito home of Mrs. Sally Clapp Stapp was found yesterday, stored in suitcases in a Berkeley warehouse.

"We have almost all of the things back now," Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt said today.

He said Police Sgt. David Cooper, with Earl Guisness, Santa Rosa insurance investigator, and Donald E. Midyett, Marin district attorney's investigator, found the prized heirlooms yesterday afternoon at Macy Movers.

Operator Jack Macy told officers Raymond Ricardo Varela, 25, and his common-law wife, Oranell Moore, 24, had taken the suitcases to the warehouse to store.

Both Varela, who once served a San Quentin Prison term for auto theft, and Miss Moore are members of the "Black Muslim" sect. They are being held in Marin County Jail, Miss Moore on charges of burglary and receiving stolen goods and Varela on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Varela is under $1,050 bail and Miss Moore, $2,100 bail.

They also have "holds" placed on them by San Francisco police on burglary charges, with $5,250 bail each.

Neither of them, Goerndt said, has admitted any part in the burglary.

Officers first found some of Mrs. Stapp's stolen silver March 16 in a San Francisco antique shop. Varela was arrested March 19 in San Francisco and Miss Moore the following day, the latter after "piles of loot" were discovered in the basement of the San Francisco home in which the couple resided.

HAFB Postmaster Job Confirmed

Appointment of Howard E. Bradley as Hamilton Air Force Base postmaster was confirmed by the Senate yesterday.

Bradley was named acting postmaster at the airbase last July 7. He was nominated for permanent appointment by President John F. Kennedy in January.

For 13 years before becoming acting postmaster at Hamilton, Bradley was a post office clerk in Sausalito. He and his wife, son and daughter reside at 134 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Disarm Campaign Is Intensified

A more intensified campaign of telegrams and letters urging disarmament was decided on at a meeting of People for Peace last night.

The next meeting was scheduled for 8 p.m., April 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Gibson, 675 Woodbine Lane, Terra Linda.

WALTER O. JENSEN
Launches theater school

New Dramatic School Opening In San Rafael

A new dramatic school, which hopes to expand to include correlating the activities of little theater groups throughout Marin County, will be launched Sunday in San Rafael.

The Marin Theater Institute will be headed by Walter O. Jensen. It will get under way at 3 p.m. Sunday in quarters in the basement annex of the Church of Religious Science at 912 E Street, Jensen announced.

The board of directors includes Phillip Dorn of San Anselmo as president, Mrs. Justine Farmer of Sausalito as vice president, and Carroll Trafton of San Francisco as secretary - treasurer. Jensen, will be fulltime managing director.

The school plans weekly classes in dramatics for children in the third through sixth grades, a teen-age theater for students in the seventh through 12th grades, seminars for non professionals in theater appreciation and an adult workshop for amateur actors, playwrights and directors.

Registration for the classes will be held 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. daily during the week starting Sunday.

In addition, the institute plans a lending library of theatrical books and plays, complete casting files of local talent open to all directors and producers, and a system of lending members of its staff to little theater groups to promote county theatrical activities, according to Jensen.

He said that he hopes to have an institute sponsored stock company touring the county by early summer.

Jensen, member of numerous theatrical organizations, has previously directed such groups as the Corpus Christi and Houston Little Theaters in Texas; Theater Atlanta, Inc., in Georgia; Orange Blossom Playhouse in Florida, and Honolulu Community Theater in Hawaii.

He resides at 37 Calumet Avenue, San Anselmo.

A 3-year-old boy ran into the side of a moving car in Novato yesterday, breaking his left leg and suffering a head injury.

Timothy Arnold Finan, son of First Lt. and Mrs. Thomas R. Finan of 1297 Lynwood Drive, dashed across the center divider on Sunset Parkway just off South Novato Boulevard about 2:10 p.m. He ran into the left rear fender of a westbound car driven by Paulette Marie Tavenner, 18, of 1319 Leafwood Drive, Novato police reported.

He was taken to Novato General Hospital by Thomas L. Thompson of 4 Rita Court, a passing motorist.

After emergency treatment, he was transferred to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco where his condition is reported as good today.

Rock Through Window

L. Noll of Mill Valley reported to police at 9:12 p.m. yesterday that, while sitting by a four-by-four foot window at his home at 163 Miller Avenue, someone threw a rock through the window. Police searched the area but found no one.

Udall Is Pushing For Timber Land Switch

Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall is pushing land exchange whereby Sweet Timber Co. would swap timber rights within the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore for government timber in Northern California.

This was reported today by Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera).

Miller said Udall "is most enthusiastic" about the proposed swap. He said the interior secretary has instructed Asst. Secy. John Carver and the Bureau of Land Management to try to complete the exchange as soon as possible.

Sweet Timber Co. has cutting rights on 2,500 acres of redwood trees belonging to Tevis Land and Livestock Co. on the easterly ridge midway between Olema and Bolinas. The swap would be these trees for similar acreage owned by the government in Del Norte and Humboldt counties. The Del Norte-Humboldt redwoods reportedly much higher grade timber than that in Marin.

Negotiations for the swap were first disclosed last Nov. 11 in the Independent-Journal.

College Holds Open House

More than 600 persons jammed Olney Hall and two other large lecture rooms last night for College of Marin open house activities.

Board president Kent O. Seymour, in an opening orientation session, told parents the problems that the college and its students face in the future are far different from those "our generation had to face."

After the orientation session, parents had a chance to see and hear presentations from the college's six divisions.

Investment Advisory Firm Opening

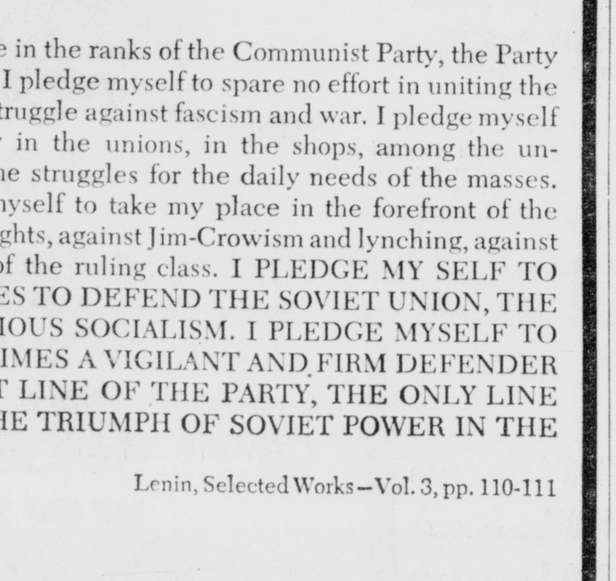

West Coast Growth Situations, an investment advisory firm, will open a new office in the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center in Fairfax on Monday.

The organization, headed by William F. Crawford of Sleepy Hollow, has heretofore been conducted from Crawford's home, but during the past year has grown to a staff of seven. Associated with Crawford as principals in the firm are Lawrence Williams, former research analyst of Shearson, Hammill and Co., New York, and Frank Wickham, formerly with the Glidden Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Crawford was previously controller of the Durkee Famous Foods division of the Glidden Co., and a research analyst with Dean Witter and Co.

He said the service, which is sent to over 1,300 annual subscribers and to an additional 2,000 trial subscribers, no longer limits its recommendations to West Coast securities but recommends stocks regardless of geographic location. He has conducted the investment service for over two years.

Only southern Oregon, a small section of the Atlantic seaboard and California's great central valley are the winter home of the whistling swan.

THE COMMUNIST OATH

"I now take my place in the ranks of the Communist Party, the Party of the working class. I pledge myself to spare no effort in uniting the workers in militant struggle against fascism and war. I pledge myself to work unsparingly in the unions, in the shops, among the unemployed, to lead the struggles for the daily needs of the masses. I solemnly pledge myself to take my place in the forefront of the struggle for Negro Rights, against Jim-Crowism and lynching, against the chauvinist lies of the ruling class. I PLEDGE MY SELF TO RALLY THE MASSES TO DEFEND THE SOVIET UNION, THE LAND OF VICTORIOUS SOCIALISM. I PLEDGE MYSELF TO REMAIN AT ALL TIMES A VIGILANT AND FIRM DEFENDER OF THE LENINIST LINE OF THE PARTY, THE ONLY LINE THAT INSURES THE TRIUMPH OF SOVIET POWER IN THE UNITED STATES."

Lenin, Selected Works—Vol. 3, pp. 110-111

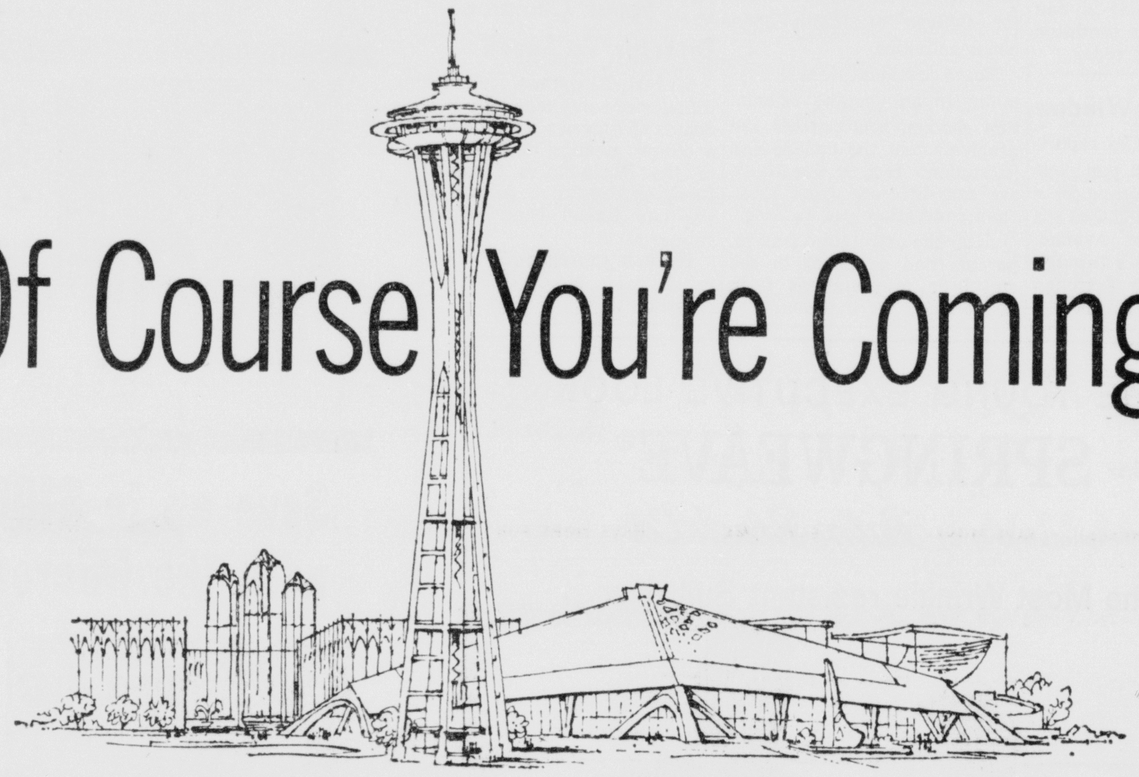

Only those who have taken this oath, and still persist in hiding behind the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the U.S.A., have anything to fear if the Initiative Constitutional Amendment—Article XXVIII "Control of Subversive Activities" known as the Louis Francis Initiative, qualifies and becomes law in the State of California.

Every country to date, which has been taken over by the Communists, has been taken over from the inside. Why do American Citizens refuse to believe the Soviets, when they say they are going to bury us?

Freedom is every Americans' business. If we refuse to use our freedom, to protect our freedom, until it is too late, then we deserve what we shall surely receive, which is the fulfillment of the Commie Oath.

Like any other thoughtful host awaiting invited guests, Seattle and Washington State are anxious to see that everything is provided to make your stay comfortable and enjoyable. Especially that you may anticipate suitable housing accommodations upon your arrival.

Toward that end we have set up a non-profit, public service operation known as "Expo-Lodging" for the sole purpose of processing housing reservations. Accommodations to meet practically every preference, every purse and every purpose. Metropolitan hotels and motels, modest hotels and motels, hotel-apartments, rooms in selected private homes, group facilities in dormitories, parking parks for trailers, appropriate facilities for campers! Accommodations amidst the hurry and bustle of the downtown Fairgrounds, or perhaps half an hour away in the relative peace and quiet of one of Seattle's nearby peripheral cities. Yes, accommodations in great number and variety, and Expo-Lodging will do its best to place you happily. But we should know "what" and "when."

The service is yours for the asking and there is, of course, no charge. Clip the handy coupon below. Fill it out to tell us what you would like—and when. John Brewer, San Rafael, Will Head Adult Authority

John Wesley Brewer, 46, of San Rafael today was appointed chairman of the California Adult Authority.

He is the first man of Negro ancestry to be named to the position.

Brewer on May 1 will succeed Fred Finsley, who "asked to be relieved of the strenuous duty after five years as chairman," said Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Finsley will remain a member of the authority.

Brewer, who resides at 134 Golden Hinde Boulevard with his wife and two children, is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and came to Los Angeles when he was three years old. His father is a Los Angeles Baptist minister, Rev. A. L. Brewer.

JOHN W. BREWER
To head adult authority

The new chairman was graduated from Jefferson High School in Los Angeles and from Fresno State College, majoring in education. He did graduate study at University of California at Los Angeles and University of Southern California.

After leaving USC in 1939 he spent two years as a State Relief Administration case worker. In 1941, he became a deputy probation worker for Los Angeles County, and in 1954 was made probation director in southwest Los Angeles County.

From 1944 to 1954 he was in charge of a group guidance program that dealt with street gangs of young adults and juveniles in Los Angeles County.

He moved to Marin after his appointment to the Adult Authority in 1959.

Governor Brown said Brewer has been an outspoken advocate of increased parole supervision, broader programs of help for parolees and closer liaison with courts and law enforcement agencies.

Brewer also has supported expansion of parole programs to include reduced caseloads for parole agents and "half-way houses" to help parolees bridge the gap back to a life outside prisons.

Brewer has served on the Attorney General's Citizens' Advisory Committee on Crime and Delinquency Prevention; the Committee on Delinquency and Crime Prevention of the Western Probation, Parole and Correctional Assn., and the executive committee of the Los Angeles County Committee on Human Relations.

He was interviewed briefly today on his way to an authority meeting at San Quentin Prison. Later today he went to an executive meeting in San Francisco. Tomorrow the authority will meet as an advisory pardon board. The group also serves in an executive clemency advisory capacity and it visits all eight of the state's prisons for men.

"I'll be putting in a 70-hour week," he commented.

Ehrlich Support Case Continued

Decision on the request by Mrs. J. W. Ehrlich Jr. of Belvedere for $545 a month temporary support money was continued by a San Francisco judge yesterday to Tuesday.

Judge Joseph Karesh in Superior Court said he would continue the case to 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday after hearing arguments from Mrs. Ehrlich and her estranged husband yesterday.

Mrs. Isabella Ehrlich, 35, occupied the stand most of the three hours in court yesterday, giving details of her request. Ehrlich, 40, son of the San Francisco attorney, countered that he could not pay her support now because he is working only part-time for $50 a week.

STATE HOLDS OFF OIL EXPLORATION

The State Land Division today held in abeyance an application of Standard Oil Co. of California for permission to do underwater seismic exploration off the Marin coast.

The division granted Standard Oil's application for such exploration in offshore areas north of Point Conception except for that portion in Marin County. Action on the Marin County portion will be taken at the next meeting, probably in Sacramento on April 26, the division said.

The deferment resulted from a telegram of protest from the Marin County Board of Supervisors, who expressed fear Tuesday the exploration might damage beaches in what is expected to be the Point Reyes National Seashore.

The application was only for seismic tests off the shore, not for drilling. Seismic tests are made by exploding depth charges and taking reading on instruments similar to seismographs used to record earthquakes. This provides information on underwater strata which may be made the basis for subsequent application for test drilling.

A lands division spokesman stressed that, before any such testing, the oil company would also be required to have permission from the State Department of Fish and Game, which is charged with protection of the offshore marine life.

She's The Friend Of Old People

LAST DAY—Her case books neatly piled, Mrs. Helen W. Brown is ready to leave her Marin County Welfare Department office for the last time. She's retiring tomorrow as a case worker dealing with elderly people. Mrs. Brown herself is a young 70. (Independent-Journal photo)

By ALTON H. BOCK

A friend of old people retires tomorrow in Marin County after 27 years of social work.

Mrs. Helen W. Brown, who was 70 on March 16, is a social worker in the great tradition: she believes aid to the needy is not a matter of charity but a matter of social duty.

She is a quiet, gentle woman who got her training the hard way during the Depression. In 1935, under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, she was one of the early workers whose service Harry Hopkins called "faithful and invaluable."

Hannibal, Mo., was where Mrs. Brown first learned to cope with the problems of the forgotten aged.

"It was discouraging in those days," Mrs. Brown recalls. "It was a restricted relief program compared to what we have today in California. We were awfully limited in what we could do sometimes."

She was born near St. Louis, but had spent most of her early life in Hannibal, which was Mark Twain's boyhood hometown. She taught school there before she married jewelry store owner George A. Brown. His store went bankrupt in 1935.

In 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved to Arizona because of Brown's poor health. Mrs. Brown lost little time in taking a job with the Red Cross home service in Phoenix.

A year later the couple moved to San Rafael, and Mrs. Brown sought social work with the Marin County Welfare Department. During her 10 years here she has found many friends among the elderly people she's helped.

"I've known many of the same people during the entire 10 years," Mrs. Brown says, "but . . . many of them are gone now."

She's taken a personal interest in each case and has helped hundreds of the aged in Marin, from aged residents in boarding houses to lonely couples who have outlived their children.

"I'm very fond of them, and some say they will feel a little insecure without me," she admits. "But I will continue to visit them now and again."

Her efforts to do something for old people won't cease with retirement: "I want to find some way of continuing research and assistance for older people, perhaps through some organization," she says. "I don't need any time fillers. I don't want to waste the years I have left."

Mrs. Brown has a son, George A. Brown Jr., of Santa Clara, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Weaver Jr. and Mrs. Jack H. Porter of Missouri. Her husband died in San Rafael in 1959.

Praising Mrs. Brown for her years of service, Betty L. Presley, county welfare directors, said, "She's been a real, warm friend of these old people."

Sumi Sketches To Be Exhibited

Mrs. Duncan, mother of four small children and a long-time Sausalito resident, studied watercolor under Austrian Leo Zeigler. She also studied sculpture under Richard O'Hanlon and Jacques Schnier and sumi painting under Chiura Obata.

San Rafael Parks Meeting Put Off

San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission did not meet last night because of lack of a quorum.

Director of Recreation Joseph Dodota said a meeting will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the city hall to discuss the budget for the coming fiscal year.

Others in the cast will be Alyce Fuller as Veta Louise Simmons; Diane Hirsch as Myrtle Mae Simmons; Janet Isaac as Ruth Kelly; John Keilty as Dr. Sanderson; Hugh Philo as Duane Wilson; Stuart Rasmussen as Dr. Chumley; Robert Fuller as Judge Omar Gaffney; Dan Biedron as E. Legion To Honor Past Commanders

Mill Valley Post 284, American Legion, will honor past commanders in the Legion Hall April 23, Commander Maurice Angland said today.

Arrangements for the annual buffet dinner are being made by past Commander Roy A. Ibach. Past Commander Edward Duggan will be master of ceremonies. The dinner will wind up the 1962 membership drive.

Angland said that on June 11 the post and its auxiliary will have a joint installation of officers. Donald Burbeck is in charge.

Hoffmire Legal Counsel For Loma Verde Group

An error was made in reporting Philip Hoffmire as president of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. in yesterday's Independent-Journal. Hoffmire is legal counsel and spokesman for a non-profit recreation group seeking approval of a swimming pool site on Calle Arboleda.

Abe N. Granish, 412 Alameda de la Loma, is president of the home owners' association.

Giant W.O.W. Boys Unload Heavy Artillery Attack

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — The WOW Boys (Willie, Orlando and Willie) got their heavy artillery going yesterday as the San Francisco Giants bombed the Los Angeles Angels, 11-6, at Phoenix.

Willies Mays and McCovey and Orlando Cepeda accounted for six hits and eight runs batted in as they produced the kind of fireworks at the plate that Giant fans hope will be repeated all year.

Cepeda knocked in four runs with a single and his fourth homer of the season. It was his third roundtripper in three days.

Mays went three for four and McCovey crashed a lengthy fourmaster and added a sacrifice fly.

The Giants did their pounding against the Angels' best pitcher, Eli Grba, and continued to hit against relievers Jim Donohue and Ryne Duren.

In addition to the awakening Giants' bats, which lifted the club's exhibition mark to 9-9, there was strong pitching by Stu Miller and some fine work at second base by rookie sensation Mickey Mota.

Mota has been hitting the ball hard all spring and will definitely stay with the squad. But the Giants are knee-deep in all star outfield talent and if Mota can provide strength at second base, too, it will increase his value to the squad.

Don Larsen started and turned in three good innings before he was undone by a collection of scratch hits. Miller took over in the sixth and again looked like the National League's best fireman as he allowed one run the rest of the way.

Today the Giants met the Red Sox here with rookie Gaylord Perry due to hurl. Perry has been shelled hard all spring and the Giants are still hoping this youngster can come around by the start of the season.

San Francisco trimmed its roster down to 28 yesterday by sending righthander Jerry Thomas to Tacoma. The young pitcher won 20 and dropped 7 at Springfield in the Eastern League last year and could be back with the Giants before the season is over.

Paret Still Given Only Slim Chance

NEW YORK (AP) — Former welterweight boxing champion Benny Paret of Cuba entered his fifth day of unconsciousness today with his wife optimistic but his doctors saying he still had only a slight chance to survive.

A medical bulletin last night from Roosevelt Hospital, where Paret, 24, was rushed for emergency brain surgery after his 12th round knockout loss to Emile Griffith Saturday night, said the fighter "is maintaining the slight improvement which he showed yesterday. His condition remains critical."

A spokesman said his coma had lessened but remained deep.

"He's not going to get better fast," the spokesman said. "He may get worse. There's no way of telling how long he'll be in a coma. He could come out of it in a few minutes or a year from now. And he might not come out of it at all."

Paret's personal physician, Dr. Manuel Acosta, talked to hospital authorities and said he was convinced there was only a slight chance Paret would recover. Two neurologists said that, at best, the fighter's chances were less than 5 in 100.

While the reports were not encouraging, Paret's wife, Lucy, said "I feel a lot better than I felt about his condition before." Mrs. Paret, expecting the couple's second child in September, has been with her husband almost constantly since Sunday after a hurried trip here from Miami.

The tragedy continued to be the basis of action both here and abroad.

In Vatican City, the Vatican Radio called professional boxing objectively immoral because physical injury was in its "very nature, aims and methods."

Leaders of the New York State Legislature ordered an investigation of boxing, its safety procedures and its possible criminal elements. The investigation will determine whether the state should outlaw boxing altogether or regulate it more strictly.

In Boston, Terry Downes and Paul Pender agreed to take brain tests prior to their April 7 fight.

Paret's brother, Antonio, 26, arrived last night from Santa Clara, Cuba. Antonio said their mother, Maxima Crespo, had her travel papers in order and expected to come to New York from Havana today or Friday.

Reporters Forecast Coast-To-Coast World Series Between Yanks, Giants

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

PHOENIX—Soon the press associations and the national magazines, which get their information by polling baseball writers, will issue pontifical proclamations on the outcome of the 1962 National and American league races.

So let's beat them to the punch. We polled our fellow writers today and the consensus is that come October the long-awaited San Francisco-New York World Series, a true coast-to-coast affair, will be a reality.

The Yankees were an almost unanimous runaway selection to win it all in the American League again. However, one of our group dared to pick Bob Scheffing's Detroit Tigers over the Yankees.

Because it has become a habit, we once again picked the Giants to win the NL pennant and all but two of our group of so-called experts allowed that was a reasonable pick. The two who declined to put the Giants No. 1 came up with a surprise selection—St. Louis.

THE GIANTS, Dodgers, Braves, Cardinals and Reds made the first division on everyone's list with Los Angeles and Milwaukee getting a topheavy majority of the No. 2 and No. 3 ballots.

Second division selections had either Chicago or Pittsburgh in the No. 6 and No. 7 spots with the New York Mets edging Philadelphia out of the No. 8 finishing position. Casey Stengel and his new ball club of aging veterans were rater with such comments as: "Will be tough before hot weather sets in." "Lots of savvy that's certain to win their share of early season games."

HOUSTON, THE other new club in the National League, was unanimously picked to finish last. The Colt .45s didn't draw one favorable comment. "It will be years before they're in contention for anything but cellar," read one harsh comment.

Most persuasive bit of evidence in the case of the 1962 Giants is the way they finished the 1961 race. They won seven of their last 10 games with the Reds, seven of their last 11 with the Dodgers, and four of their last six with the Braves.

THE BRAVES, Reds and Dodgers are the Giant opposition in the first 13 games Alvin Dark's men play this season.

"If we emerged from those initial series with an 8-5 record I'd be mighty pleased," said Chub Feeney, vice president of the ball club.

Dark, while declining to guess at the outcome of the all-important early series with the Braves, Reds and Dodgers, left no doubt that he would gladly settle for an 8-5 split of the first 13.

"Would you be satisfied with an 8-5?" he was asked.

A big, silent smile was his answer.

Tars Roll Over Concordia, 13-0; Face Rugged League Tests Next

The College of Marin Tars baseball team had it soft yesterday, but it will be a different story during its next two GVC outings.

Coach Ed Grimm's Tars face the Golden Valley Conference favorite Yuba College in a conference double-header Saturday at noon at Marysville and play a twin bill against the league's next best prospect American River, April 7.

Grimm was hoping yesterday's contest with Concordia was going to be a rugged one in preparation for Yuba. It was rugged alright, but for the wrong team. Marin rolled over Concordia 13-0.

The shutout pitching was the work of Mariners Gordon McClosky, who went three frames, and Ron Cole, who completed the remaining four innings of the seven-inning contest. Actually Marin picked up its 13 runs while getting only five hits, two of which were homers. Concordia was held to three hits, and committed seven errors to Marin's one.

Homers were punched out by Jerry Ard, who got two for three, and by third baseman Ernie Bray, who drove in an extra man with his. Other hits were tagged by Lynn Livie and Ron Cole.

Marin's unmerciful assault against the once strong Concordia outfit came in the third inning when the Tars picked up eight runs, mostly on Concordia's sloppy playing.

Grimm used his entire crew.

Saturday's opponents, the 49ers, have already lost by only a run to both powerful Chico State College and the California Bears.

Archie's Opponent Will Be Heavier For L.A. Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The betting was about 6-5 and take your pick today on the heavyweight match between old-folks Archie Moore and Argentina's Sports Arena tomorrow night.

Moore, whose dwindling portion of the world light heavyweight title is not involved, kept secret his exact weight.

But it was apparent he has trimmed down and his advisor, Jack Kearns, said Moore will step into the ring at around 191 pounds.

The 25-year-old Lavorante, a ranking contender for the heavyweight crown, will weigh about 210, manager Pinkie George predicted.

There will be no television nor radio broadcast of the 10-round bout.

S.F. Seals Fight For Life In Loop Playoffs Tonight

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Even Coach Max McNab concedes his San Francisco Seals won't have an easy time of it against Spokane's Comets tonight.

The Seals need a victory to remain in the Western Hockey League's Southern Division playoffs but they're going into the best-of-three series down one game.

"We're in deep and we know it. Any club that beats Portland over the season six times with two ties, in 12 games, has to be good," McNab said of the Comets yesterday.

Spokane skated to an easy 4-1 win over the Seals in San Francisco Tuesday night. Even if the Seals win tonight's encounter, the rubber game would be played here Saturday and San Francisco has won only one game in five outings in Spokane.

The winner of the series faces Portland.

San Rafael Mermen Try To Continue Winning Streak

Coach Larry Lack's San Rafael High swimmers go against the Panthers at Santa Rosa tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in a non-league meet.

Monday's winners for San Rafael against the San Francisco team were:

Tom Falconer, 50 free, 26.4; Dean Ferrindini, 200 free, 2:16.4; Rick Tegeler, 100 back, 1:10.8; Bill Williams, 100 breast, 1:24; Lou Yuvan, 100 free, 57.9; Bruce Howard, 200 individual medley, 2:32.2; 200 medley relay, won by San Rafael (Tegeler, Manz, Magladry, Oliari), 2:03.5; 200 free relay, won by San Rafael (Darcy, Falconer, Bruster, Yuvan), 1:44.7.

Bulldog B team double winner: Tom Knopf, 50 butterfly and 100 I.M.

Tam Wins Fourth Swimming Contest

The Tamalpais Indians won their fourth non-league swimming meet of the season Tuesday and their B squad won its fifth straight.

A 66-28 win over Montgomery High of Santa Rosa gives the varsity a 4-1 count for the season and the Bs' 63-23 whipping of Santa Rosa a 5-0 count.

Tinsley Stetson was Tam's double winner in varsity competition yesterday. The aquatic prep ace won the 100-yard butterfly in 1:03.2 and the individual medley in the excellent time of 2.22.3. Other good times were 24.6 by Tony DePrado in the 50-yard freestyle and 1:56.9 in the medley relay by the Tam team: Duncan Greene, Steve Detsch, Bob Scott and DePrado.

Double winner in the "B" contest was Richard Stewart, 50 free, 27. and 100 free, 1:01.

Tam hosts Lincoln High tomorrow, 3:30 p.m.

Tar Golfers Win; Get Ready For Big Tournaments

College of Marin golfers are getting closer to the matches that count.

April 6, they play in a Golden Valley Conference match at American River in Sacramento and on April 9, coach Cal Riemcke's Tars will host a GVC match at which all six of the conference schools with golf teams will be represented at Peacock Gap in San Rafael.

Yesterday the Tars beat Santa Rosa 8½ to 6½ in a practice match. Low medalist for Marin was Carl Klenz with a 90. Tar ace Earl Brown was absent from yesterday's match, but earlier this week he scored a seven over par 78 at Peacock Gap during a 4-11 loss to Vallejo by Marin.

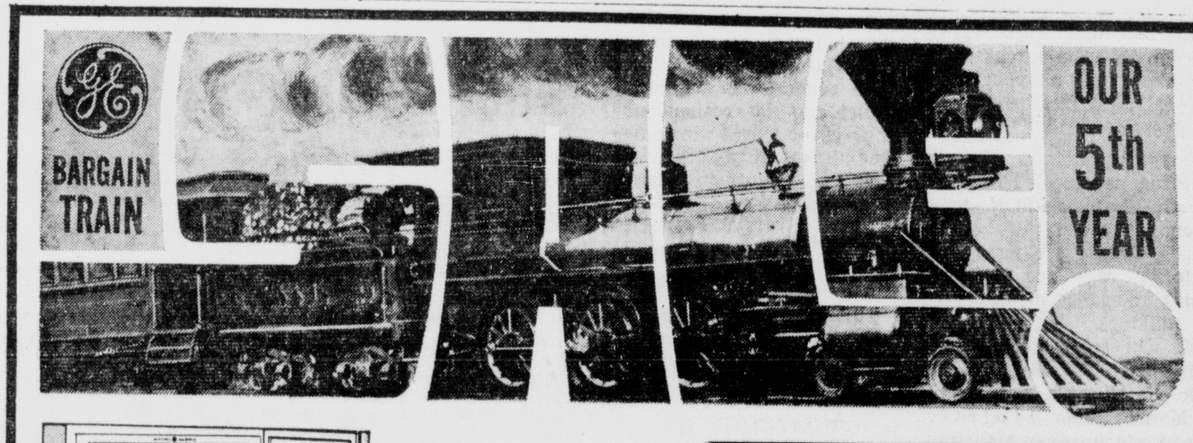

Tacoma Acquires 2nd Baseman On Option

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—Tacoma acquired second baseman Milt Graff yesterday on a 60 days optional basis from Kansas City.

Graff, who suffered a broken knee last year with the Giants, will report here soon.

Yesterday, the defending PCL champion Tacoma club battered Oklahoma City of the American Assn., 12-2.

Jose LaBoy led Tacoma with two hits good for three runs.

San Rafael Miler Fastest In Norcal

It looks like San Rafael's miler, Jay Lathrop, is on his way to a big season.

A week ago he ran the distance in 4:33 and this week in a dual meet with Westmore High a 4:26.6 gave him the fastest time recorded in northern California prep competition this year. The time also unofficially broke the Marin County Athletic League record by 10 seconds. The state mile record time is 4:14.8.

Coach Bill O'Bayley of San Rafael predicted Lathrop may even get his time down to 4:20 before long.

"Considering his improvement in just a week, and the coldness of Tuesday during the meet, it looks good for Jay," the coach said.

SHAFER STARS

San Rafael's Mike Shafer cracked his own MCAL record unofficially with a 51-second gallop in the 440. The MCAL record is 51.9. Shafer also broke the school's record of 51.2. Shafer was also praised by his coach for running so well in cold weather.

Bulldog Dennis Nickel was a double varsity winner with a 48-foot 9-inch toss in the shot put, and a 130-foot heave in the discus event. Both Nickel and Shafer are varsity gridders.

Bob Olson had a good day for the San Rafael Bs to say the least. Olson won three events and was anchor man on the winning relay team. He won the 75 in 8.2, the 150 in 15.7 and the broad jump with an 18-foot leap.

The San Rafael Cs lost to the Westmore team.

Giant Bayne Brush broke a Class C 660 record with a winning time of 1:35.4.

The meet's first place varsity winners were:

120 high hurdles: Paul Kruger (M), 16.7; 880: Bruce Makinson (M), 2:09.6; 100: Dave Cox (R), 10.9; 440: Bob McLaury (R), 54.5: 180 low hurdles: Tom Strathairn (R), 22.7; 220: Cox, 23.9; mile: Randy Keller (R), 4:42.5; broad jump: Chuck Hardeman (M), 18-1; pole vault: Kim Kreuzberger (R), 10-6; high jump: Strathairn (R) 5-6; discus: Steve Solinsky (R), 121-4; relay won by Marin Catholic (Carney, Kruger, Wilsey, O'Connell), 1:38.

SRHS Faculty Vs. Students In Benefit

A benefit basketball game between the San Rafael High faculty and students is scheduled tomorrow, 7:30 p.m., at the school's new gymnasium.

Proceeds will be used for the American Field Services exchange student program. The game is sponsored by the International Club of the school. Tickets (adults, $1; students with studentbody cards, 25 cents; students without cards, 50 cents) may be purchased at the school bank or from International Club members, or at the gym door Friday.

Varsity basketball coach Mike Diaz is expected to score at least 100 points in Friday's action for the faculty team. Diaz, a former University of California cage ace, will be competing against his own varsity Bulldogs basketball team which will represent the students in the contest. Diaz, while coaching his Bulldogs to the Marin County Athletic League crown this past season, also played enough games for Perry's Delicatessen to end the season as high scorer in the San Rafael Recreation adult basketball league.

Other members of the fighting faculty will be Milt Hain, George Starn, athletic director Angelo Colombo; William O'Bayley, Eck Mahl, Gary Dunn, principal Al Thomson, head football coach Bob Muster, Gay Quandt and Larry Lack.

Among the game's yell and song leaders will be Mrs. Adelaide Roberts, William Rinaldi and Robert Carrasco, Mrs. Barbara Rinaldi and Mrs. Judy Shillinger.

Sports World Mourns Death Of Grid Coach Gen. Neyland

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Praise poured in from leading figures of the sports world today for Gen. Robert Neyland, dead at 70 after his formula for flawless football gave him years of fabulous success as Tennessee coach.

The big, gruff man, who produced some of America's top teams and gave the game some of its best coaches, died yesterday at Ochsner Foundation Hospital of a kidney and liver ailment. Hospital officials said Neyland, who entered the hospital Jan. 14, lapsed into a coma Tuesday night.

The general was a non-conformist and never abandoned his precision single wing when other coaches adopted the more spectacular T-formation after World War II.

In his 27 years as Tennessee coach, the Volunteers won 171 games, lost only 27 and tied 12. Tis 1951 team finished first in The Associated Press poll and was crowned national champion. He stepped down in 1953 because of the liver ailment.

'GREATEST OF ALL'

"I believe Gen. Neyland was the greatest coach of them all," said one of his brightest stars and most apt pupils, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech.

George Halas, one of the founders of the National Football League said, "It is quite a shock to hear of the death of one of the stalwarts of football. He was a great tactician. He developed one of the great systems and contributed so much to the sport."

"I don't know anyone who contributed more to football, as a player, coach and member of the NCAA rules committee," sair former Columbia coach Lou Little.

An outstanding engineer, Neyland spent a year on an assignment in the Panama Canal Zone, but retired from the Army in 1936 to give his full energy to football.

The Army recalled him to active duty in 1941 and he spent the next five years in service, rising to brigadier general. He won the Distinguished Service Medal for his work as commandant of the Port of Calcutta, handling billions of dollars in supplies for the China-Burma-India theater of operations in World War II.

Other than Dodd, other Neyland-trained coaches include Murray Warmath of Minnesota, Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee, Ray Graves of Florida, Bill Barnes of UCLA, Clay Stapleton of Iowa State and Phil Dickens of Indiana.

Neyland is survived by his widow and two sons.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Knoxville. He will be buried in the U.S. National Cemetery, not far from the field where his teams won some of their memorable games.

Salmon Seekers Have Tough Job Relocating Scattered Schools

STEVENS

The salmon searchers have their work cut out for them trying to relocate the schools of salmon that scattered on account of the wild winds of last week. The ocean was flat Tuesday and had been since Saturday, but the results of the trollers was almost nil.

The stormy weekend affected the local striper striving adversely. Quite a good many bass were taken on both sides of the San Pablo Bay but not as many as the previous weekend. The bulk of the catches are still being taken from the Marin side, and Monday the yield in the China Camp region gave promise of equaling or bettering the previous Sunday and Monday.

Joe Carroll with three friends aboard Joe's trim cruiser, the Mary Jane the Third, fished between China Camp and the Pump House Monday and collected nine nice stripers from five to nine pounds Monday.

RICHARD HERMAN and Virgin Flurry of the East Bay took limits of bass out of China Camp on Monday and also took home 11 large flounders. Joe Wallace and Jule Kimball also limited out with there to eight pound bass at China Camp.

I HAVE an idea that more sturgeon have been taken by anglers fishing for striped bass or catfish this season than for many years past. The latest report on such catches includes a six foot, 125 pounder landed in the China Camp sector Sunday by Jaques Lavigne.

Not all sturgeon caught the past week or so are of legal size. Jay Devillier and Jim Purcell each boated a sturgeon but both were under the legal length. Mostly the huge fish have been found in the more shallow waters locally and in the back country.

LIKE THE bass, the majority of the reports of flounders being taken by accident or intentionally (with very small hooks and small pieces of bait) have been had in the Marin side of the bay.

On the Contra Costa side of the San Pablo, in the Carquinez Strait, the Napa River and the Suisun Bay, bassing has been spotty, but that condition is due to change for the better in the next few days if the weather stays clement. Better tides should effect this improvement.

CATFISHING in the back country has been and is about as good as it could be. Hardly a sector but what is producing some good sized smoothskins in limit quantities. For example, Jay Devillier and Jim Purcell fished Sherman Lake on Sunday and took legal limits of dandy catfish and one 15-pound bass.

THAT RUMOR of a 58-pound striped bass taken on Sunday still remains only a rumor. Anyone able to substantiate the rumor?

THE HARDY souls who revel in digging clams or picking abalones will have their innings on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Remember to be on the job ready to wade in for abalones an hour before the tide starts coming in.

And that's it for today. Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Miler Snell Will Race Jim Beatty

MODESTO (AP) — New Zealand's Peter Snell, the world's fastest miler, will race American ace Jim Beatty at the California Relays here on May 26.

Meet director Tom Moore announced Tuesday that both Snell and Beatty have accepted invitations to compete.

Snell smashed the world mile run record with a time of 3 minutes 54.4 seconds and last Feb. 10 the 5-foot 6 beatty became the first man to run the mile indoors in less than four minutes with 3:58.9.

Beatty has won the mile in the California Relays two straight years with a 3:58 in 1960 and 3:58.6 in 1961.

Moore said the veteran Laszlo Tabori and former Oregon star Jim Grelle also would run the mile.

Bagley Declares His Candidacy For Assembly

William T. Bagley of San Rafael today declared his candidacy for the Republican nomination for re-election as assemblyman from Marin and Sonoma Counties.

The Woodacre-born 34-year-old incumbent is a member of the San Rafael law firm of Gardiner, Riede, Elliott, Bagley and Bernt. In 1960 he was elected to the Assembly by a 25,000-vote margin.

He is a member of the judiciary, livestock and dairy, government organization and social welfare committees and serves on the "task force" budget committee.

During the 1961 session Bagley was author of 20 measures. His bills aided use of parks and recreation facilities, strengthened local government, protected dairy and poultry industries and instituted judicial reforms.

He also worked toward increasing recreational facilities for the elderly and enhancing sport fishing in Bay Area lakes and streams.

Bagley said today that he feels he has pursued the course set by the voters who elected him, that he appreciated the thousands of communications he has received, and that he hoped to "continue constructive work for the largest district in the state."

He added experience gained during the past session of the legislature and the budget session had improved his ability to represent the district.

WILLIAM T. BAGLEY
Files for Reelection

Bagley was educated in San Rafael schools and holds a law degree from University of California, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, class valedictorian, and served on the board of editors of the California Law Review.

He served on the Marin County Board of Freeholders and was a director of both the California Alumni Assn. and the San Francisco Barristers Club. He is a member of the Redwood Empire Assn., Elks Lodge, Native Sons of the Golden West, Marin Rod and Gun Club, Commonwealth Club and many other business and social organizations.

His wife is the former Doris Law of Healdsburg. They have three children, and make their home at 592 Fairhills Drive in San Rafael.

Schooling Provides Key To Opportunity In Business World

Sometime before June, several thousand teen-agers have a date with a decision.

They are the boys and girls who are expected to drop out of high school this year.

If a teen-ager in this group has ever given thought to a future career, his decision will be one of the most important ones of his life. If he does drop out of school, he is sure to freeze himself out of the better career opportunities, and he will almost certainly place a ceiling on his earning power as an adult. But if he changes his mind and does stay in school and earns a diploma, he can look forward to his future with added confidence.

The seriousness of the dropout problem, both to youngsters themselves and to the nation (which needs more people with skills and education), is sharply emphasized by the United States Commissioner of Labor Statistics, Ewan Clague.

SPECIAL CONFERENCE

Clague spoke recently at Columbia University's Arden House, where a special conference was held jointly by the university and the Institute of Life Insurance. He drew a vivid picture of the importance of at least a high school education for the young man or woman looking for his first job.

"The people who fall short of that are not going to get the better jobs," was his blunt warning.

Those who do not have a high school diploma will be compelled to accept work that calls for little skill, or no skill at all. And even these jobs will be harder to find in the future because, as Clague told the Conference: "Common labor is going out."

Education will count more and more from now on. In fact, the call is already out for increased numbers of people trained as technicians or professionals.

"We estimate," Clague said, "that professional and technical workers, including laboratory workers, statistical technicians, who are of service to the professions, will increase by 40 per cent in the decade 1960-1970—a tremendous increase."

KEENER COMPETITION

The present decade will also see a growing need for workers in other fields where education counts toward a career: proprietors and managers, clerical and sales people, and skilled workers such as repairmen and mechanics.

The United States Department of Labor, urging students to finish out their high school education, explains that in each of the next few years more young people than ever before will reach the age of 18, so that competition for better jobs will be keener.

"Young workers will have to prepare themselves for a rapidly changing and more complex world of work," says the department. "They will need more education, more training, with better guidance and counseling. The kind and amount of education young persons receive affect their lifetime careers. In general, those with more schooling have higher earnings. Unemployment is much higher among those with the least education."

The didrection in which business and industry is growing gives the clue to the kinds of opportunities that will open up for millions of young men and women in the next few years. To begin with, there is a continuing shift from agriculture to a predodminantly industrial economy. There is rapid expansion in research and development activities; new improvements are being applied quickly. Business organizations are becoming more complex, and there is wide growth in record keeping in all types of enterprises.

Says the Department of Labor: "The kinds of jobs industry will need workers for are changing, and the biggest increases will occur in occupations requiring the most education and training."

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Karl Siewerts Are Returning To Live In California Again

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Good news to their many friends here is that Karl and Maja-lisa Siewert, who had a beautiful home in Bret Harte Heights before they moved to Greenwich, Conn., are coming back to California to make their home here permanently. Karl is president of the United States offices of Facit, Inc., which had its main headquarters on the East Coast. Karl has now moved the company's main headquarters to Burlingame where a new office was built last year. Additions are now being made to it and Lorette Galvin Larson, color consultant and interior designer, who did the decor for the first building will also design the interior of the big new addition.

The Siewerts were here last summer and after vacationing at Lake Tahoe in July visited in Marin. After Karl's return east, Maja-lisa divided her time between the homes of Lorette and Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Beers of Kent Woodlands.

The Siewerts have now bought a gorgeous home in Hillsborough and it, too, will be decorated by Lorette. Maja-lisa will arrive in April to complete moving details and Karl will be here early in June. There will be a number of parties for the Siewerts and for their son, John Peter Karl Siewert, called Peter, and his fiancee, Marylyn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoxie Smith of Piedmont. She was graduated in June from University of California, where she belonged to Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and Torch and Shield. Her father is a direct descendant of Joseph Hoxie, San Rafael pioneer.

Peter, who has a sister, Katerina, and brother, Michael, was president of the Student Body at San Rafael High School and is now a senior at UC. He will be graduated in June with a degree of Bachelor of Science. He is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity. The wedding will take place in December, after Peter's release from military service. Peter and his parents are originally from Goteborg, Sweden, and Peter became a citizen of the United States in December.

AT THE BLACK TIE opening of "Damn Yankees" at the Sheraton-Palace in San Francisco Tuesday night will be two Marin couples and their guests. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lang will be hosts to Capt. and Mrs. Kenneth Sommers of Belvedere and the Mell Colloms of Woodside. The Langs will be hosts at a cocktail party at their San Rafael home before going to San Francisco.

The Les Vogels Jr. of Kent Woodlands will entertain Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hackney Jr. of Tiburon and the Robert Naifys and Mr. and Mrs. J. Max Moore of San Francisco.

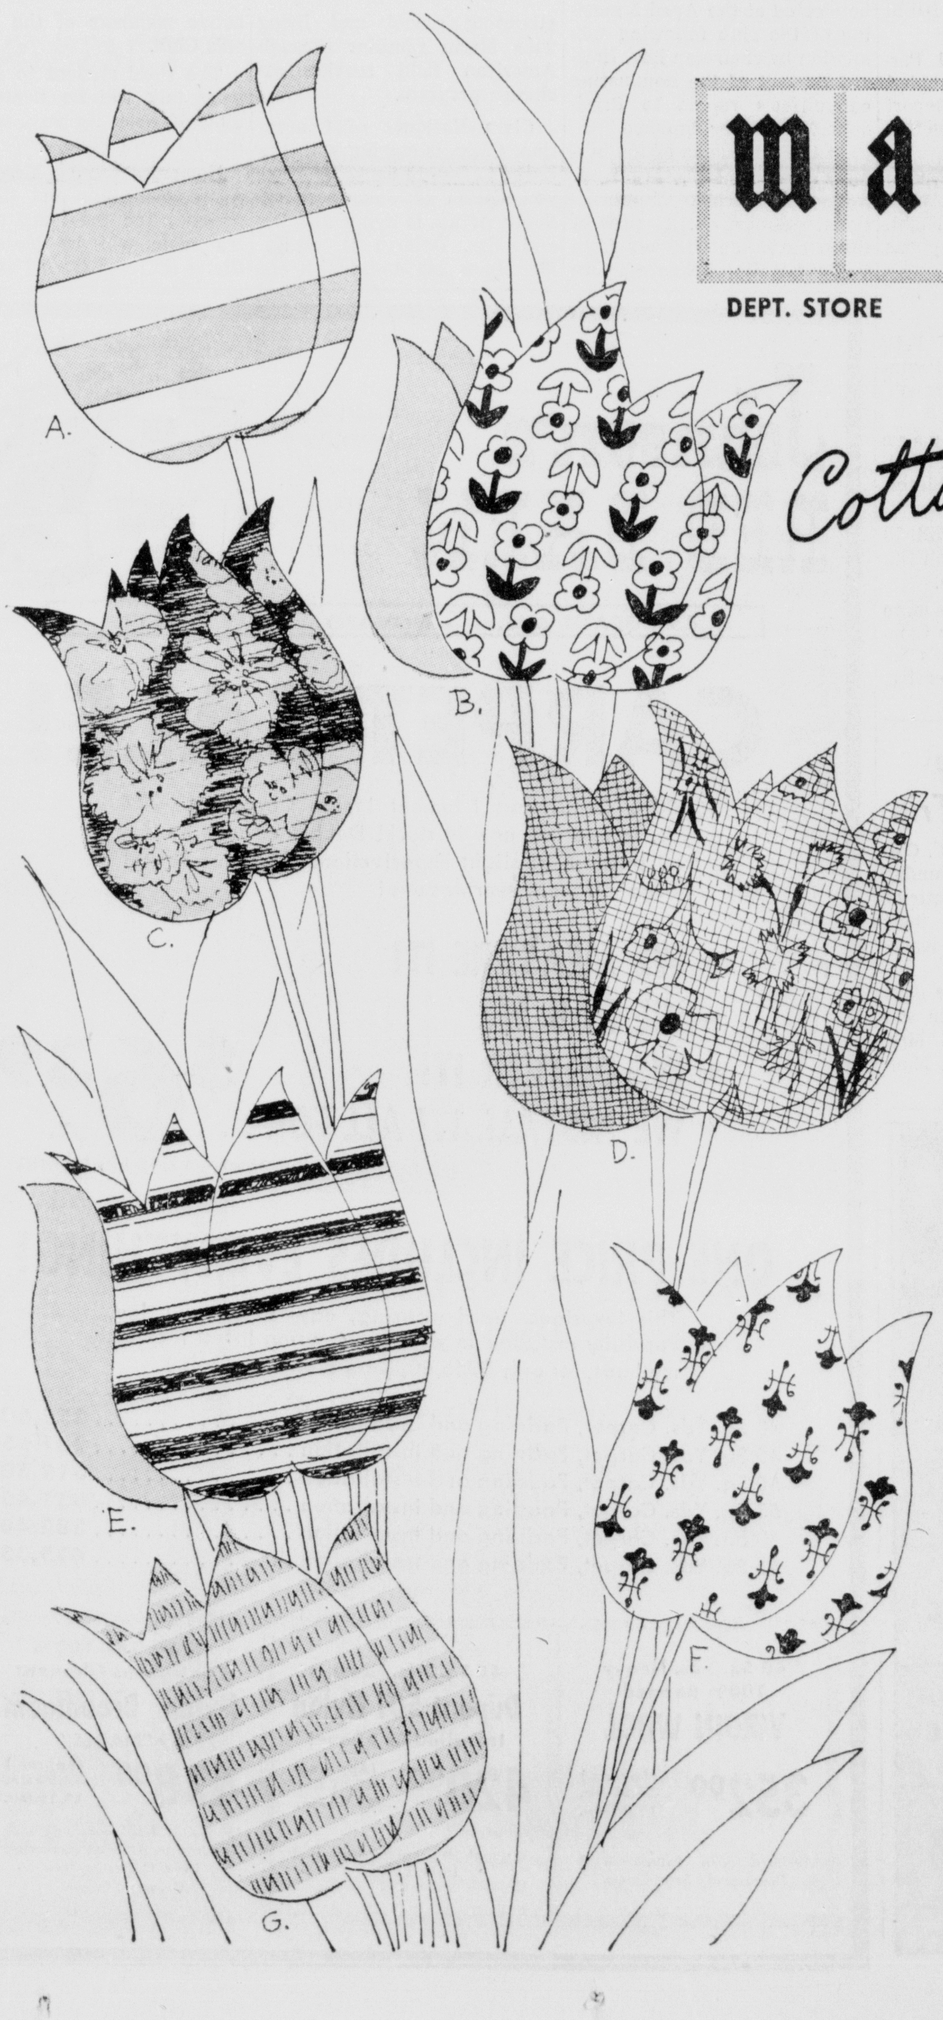

"Damn Yankees" stars Joe E. Brown, the great and beloved comedian. The baseball musical comedy is a perfect medium for Joe. He played second base for the New York Yankees in 1928. He began his career as a circus acrobat at the age of nine. He was an unknown in the theatrical world when he was in San Francisco in 1906 when it was destroyed by earthquake and fire. The formal dinner Tuesday will be served at 7 p.m. The opening is sponsored by CARE. Playing to a dinner theater in the round is a new experience to the famed comedian. Reservations for dinner are being taken at CARE headquarters.

THE EL TORO RACE, an event of spring awaited eagerly by both sailors and others who love aquatic sports, will take place April 28 instead of on Easter Saturday as has been the custom in the past. The tiny sail boats go from Sausalito to St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco. The arrival of the El Toros signals the start of parties at the yacht club.

His Mother Wouldn't Let Joe Grow Up And Live His Own Life

What happens when a mother won't let her son grow up? Do you know? Tragedy results. Let me tell you about my friend "Joe" and his mother.

Joe died last week by his own hand. He was 25, strong and handsome. He had a beautiful wife and a fine baby girl. He had a good job. You'd say he had everything to live for. But Joe thought otherwise.

I met him and his mother 10 years ago. A teacher sent them to me. Joe wanted to play baseball. His mother said no. Joe wanted to join DeMolay. His mother refused. Joe wanted to have dates. His mother wouldn't let him. Joe was anxious, and worried. He loved his mother and never disobeyed her. He couldn't bring himself to do that. But he needed help.

I tried, and failed. His mother explained Joe was her only child. If she let him live the way other boys lived she might lose him. He might get hurt, or he might fall in love and forget he had a mother. Women like this fill their own warped needs by babying their children.

I saw Joe only occasionally after that. But three years ago he did rebel. He fell in love, got married and set up his own home. He did not move very far away. He still visited his mother every evening. Even so, it looked as though he might grow up. But he couldn't. His wife and mother fought for him. He was torn both ways, and couldn't take it. Then Joe drove to a lonely spot. He took out a revolver, put the muzzle into his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Friends, let your children grow up! They must become free and independent of you. They have their own lives to live. Enough said.

(Q) "What encyclopedia should we buy for our son? He is 10."

Hair Look Like A Drizzle? Emergency Set Will Help

Does your hair look like a drizzle instead of a dazzle? Does it go flat where it's supposed to go fluff?

Here are some pick-ups for hair that has let you down.

Wind your hair on rollers and pin it with clips in its regular setting pattern before you take a shower. Spray lightly and cover with an oversize shower cap, letting the steam of the shower start the setting. When you're dressed and ready to brush out your hair the spray will be dry and your hairdo will be in to stay.

Pick up your brush, bend over from the waist, and give your hair at least 20 vigorous strokes of the brush. Back comb until your hair is literally standing on end. Now, spray and with your brush (not a comb) carefully smooth over the top layer. You'll be happily surprised at the emergency coiffure you can achieve in minutes.

Try setting fine, soft hair with stale beer. It's a build-up for fine, silky hair and there's absolutely no trace of beer odor in the finished hairdo. Either of the two tricks described above works especially well with fine hair, too.

Quick-clean oily hair with cologne or a tonic made especially for oily scalps. Part hair in sections and apply cologne or lotion to the scalp with a square of cotton. Rub scalp dry with a turkish towel. Another good treatment for oily hair can be given with the whites of two eggs. Beat egg whites until stiff and dry and apply to the scalp with a toothbrush. When dry, brush out thoroughly. Your hair will be clean, glossy, and fluffy.

How Will They Do Their Laundry In A Space Ship?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Space travelers will face a bewildering array of day-to-day problems not connected with propulsion or navigation.

For example, how will a space traveler keep clothes clean? How does one bathe in a weightless atmosphere where water will float?

The answer to the question is a laundry room in the space capsule, says Romaine Fielding, an executive with a laundry and dry cleaning equipment company.

"The social problems of space travel are still relatively unexplored," said Fielding, "but cleanliness will be a major one. The space craft will have what amounts to a laundry room, including a small laundry machine and dry cleaning unit."

The equipment, he believes, will be modified versions of the normal home laundry machines."

"Because of weightlessness, some form of an air lock will be engineered into the units so that the traveler can insert garments into the machines, and remove them, without allowing water to float through the air," Fielding said.

The problem of bathing is one which still perplexes researchers. Fielding feels a possible solution would be to anchor a big plastic bag, force it full of water and then climb in.

Those small semi-wet cloths used today by travelers to cleanse their face and hands probably won't work in space. The cloths, Fielding said, contain alcohol, which if inhaled in a closed atmosphere could result in intoxication.

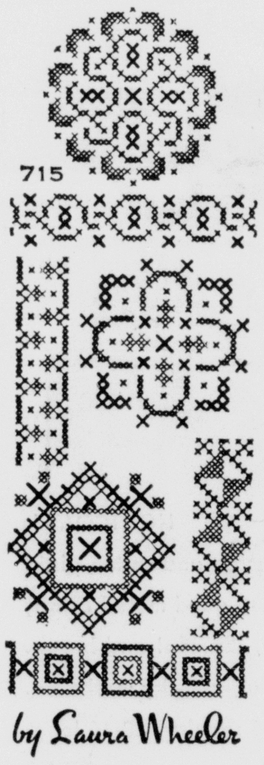

"Personal cleanliness," says Fielding, "must be maintained in order for travelers to preserve their dignity."

SAYS ANTHROPOLOGIST

Modern Living Conditions Give Children Primitive Eating Habits

NEW YORK CITY (UPI)—A Public Health Service anthropologist says modern living conditions give American children primitive eating habits.

Margaret Lantis named snacks, coffee breaks, refrigeration and self-service merchandising as cultural factors adversely affecting youngsters' food habits.

She said they encourage piecemeal eating as in primitive cultures, where children pick up what they can find, beg or take leftovers or food rejected in preparation by their elders.

In a paper delivered before a nutrition education conference in Washington, D. C., Dr. Lantis criticized self-service merchandising in stores and vending machines for offering small choices between many kinds of one food, instead of large choices between basically different foods.

"It is more important for a child to choose between a candy bar and an apple—and to have both equally available and tempting—than for him to choose from 12 chocolate bars, in reality choosing only between a gold wrapper and a silver wrapper," she said.

She added that the wide availability of snack food and soft drinks in variety and drug stores, apparel shops, filling stations and clubs also encourages poor nutrition.

Dr. Lantis suggested that an educational program be launched to halt the trend—that children be taught good food buying habits as they are taught good automobile driving habits.

"Grammar school children can 'play store' acting out marketing scenes in which they make food selections and discuss the basis of choice," she said.

"In more school systems, classes should be taken to large bakeries, slaughterhouses, any available food processing centers as routinely as they are taken to museums.

"As children grow older, they can get more technical knowledge: how is food handled in transit? What are the standards and limits regarding use of insecticides and additives?"

To help them make wise food choices, Dr. Lantis urged that vending machines carry dried and candied fruit as well as candy bars, low-calorie as well as high-calorie cookies, and powdered-fruit drinks made from real fruit and water as well as carbonated soft drinks.

New Fabrics Take To Travel Easily

As a wonderful group of fashions gets ready for the take off into a brand-new season—so too, folks everywhere seem to be ready for a take-off . . . into mid-season vacations . . . long week-ends . . . business trips and so on.

The spring news about silhouette and the news about color shape up in wonderful fabrics that take lovingly to travel and easy care.

Whether the fabric is one of the woolens that features a linen-like, open weave or lacy effect; lenos, eponges, light airy mohairs or textured wool crepes

New types of ribbed fabrics such as cotton ottomans, seersuckers and cords are wonderful shape retainers. Linens, silks and synthetics . . . solo or blended . . . are given special treatment in order to travel with absolute ease and aplomb.

Knits and double knits—perhaps the most "seasoned" of travelers, are seen everywhere and become more important than ever in beautiful, "played-up" handlings.

In all-natural fibers or in such blends as cottons and acetate; rayon and acrylic fibers; nylon and rayon blends; linens and silks; Arnels and Avrons; wools and nylons and wonderfully easy-to-care-for dacrons, and in many other combinations too numerous to mention—contemporary fabrics, with few exceptions—are designed for the jet age, and pet travelers.

Child Gets Style-Conscious Just Past The Diaper Stage

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — In the opinion of one children's wear designer, a child becomes style-conscious about the time he or she gets out of diapers.

"Perhaps they know what they like in clothes even sooner," said Ann Twohig, "if they could just tell us. The children with whom I work know what they want from the time they can talk."

"And what they want," she continued, "is comfortable clothes. A child loathes restrictions . . . haven't you seen a little girl struggling to get out of a party dress even before the party began?"

Miss Twohig said that one of the problems of designing for children concerns not the children, but the parents. "A lot of grownups want the youngsters in adult clothes," she said. "I don't believe in this . . . in little girls being carbon copies of their mothers."

To Miss Twohig, the "too old" look shows in copying not only silhouettes from the adult field, but colors as well. "Olive green shirts are fine for dad and muted plaids for mom, but children love clear, bright colors," she said.

Ann Twohig, a blue-eyed brunette of 28, is chief designer and pattern maker for manufacturers of children's wear.

Miss Twohig, a native of Brockton, Mass., designed for a maternity wear company and a bridal house before she joined her present firm in 1958.

She said a child's fashion preference was one factor in designing children's wear. Another is what mother looks for—and inevitably, except for gala occasions, mother looks for clothes which care for easily—dunk 'em in washer and dryer and back into the bureau drawer — and clothes that last through mud pies and hop scotch.

The designer is not opposed to frills. As a matter of fact, she said, small girls love fussy clothes—once in a while.

What does bother the designer is a reverse trend—parents' fashions aping those of children.

"I call it the 'Liz jazz,'" she said. (After Liz Taylor, actress). "Ruffles at the throat, ruffles at the cuff, ruffles at the hemline.

"At five, fine. At 52, terrible!"

It's Official—Nation's Females Gaining Weight

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American female is taller, heavier, bustier, leggier and hippier than her 1900 counterpart.

But don't worry, girls. The statisticians say you're more willowy and better proportioned than ever before. The key to the matter, they say, is added height. The American woman today is, on the average, 2½ inches taller than the woman of 1900.

Another cause for rejoicing: In 1900, a size 20 was one of the most popular sizes. Today there are still plenty of 20's, but sizes 8, 10, and 12 are quite common. They were relatively rare 60 years ago.

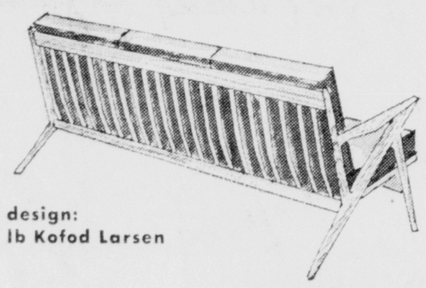

These findings come from a study by the research staff of a girdle manufacturer. The survey revealed that in 1900, the average woman was 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighed 114 pounds.

Today, she is 5 feet 4½ and weighs 126. The average bust measurements in 1900 (in the 20-40 age bracket) was 33 3/10 inches; today, it's 35¼. The average waist, which was 24 inches 60 years ago, is 26 inches now.

Hip averages have increased only from 36 inches to 36½ inches.

Miwok Exec Appointed For Marin

DAVID B. ESTES
Miwok Scout Executive

David B. Estes has been chosen Miwok District executive for Marin Council Boy Scouts of America, it was announced today by Storrs H. Smith, council scout executive.

He replaces David A. Rice, who recently transferred to the Verdugo Hills Council in Glendale, Los Angeles County.

Estes has served as camp ranger, Marin-Sierra Camp director, and assistant district executive for the Marin Council since 1957.

As Miwok executive, Estes will serve an area including San Rafael and northward to the Sonoma County line, with a total of 52 scout units serving 1,885 boys.

After attending national training school for scout executives at Mendhen, N.J., starting next Tuesday, Estes will start his new assignment May 18. He lives at Camp Tamarancho near Fairfax with his wife and four children but they will move into the Miwok district area soon.

Radiological Course

Capt. Aubrey C. Lyon of 33 Vista Clara, Sausalito, has completed the radiological monitoring training course for instructor at Western Instructor Training Center in Alameda, sponsored by the Department of Defense. Aubrey is a shipmaster with Pacific Far East Lines.

'Black Muslims' Win Continuance

An Oakland couple, accused of receiving goods stolen in a $20,000 Christmas Eve burglary in Sausalito, won another continuance in Marin Municipal Court because they have not been able to get their lawyer.

Judge Harold J. Haley set next Tuesday as the next court date for Ricardo Varela, 25, and his common-law wife, Oranell Moore, 24. The couple described themselves as Black Muslims.

The two are accused of receiving valuables stolen from the home of Mrs. Sally Clapp Stapp at 49 Cloud View Road last Dec. 24, Mrs. Stapp slept through the burglary. Some of the Stapp silver, which turned up at a San Francisco antique shop, led Sausalito police to the Varela home.

Medical Building Plan Approved

Architectural approval for construction of a medical building on Magnolia Avenue across from Francis Avenue has been granted by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

The building will include a pharmacy and two offices. Owners are Dr. and Mrs. Russell J. Merret of Kentfield.

Architectural approval was granted for a Standard Oil Co. service station to replace an existing station at 532 Magnolia Avenue. Clifford G. Archer will remain as operator.

Boys Still Romantic

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Off-duty police officers hired to police high school dancing in Worcester say it's the girls who request the Twist. They say the boys watch and gossip in masculine huddles, waiting for slower, dreamy, old-fashioned music.

Marin Businessmen Given Tips On Tourists

Marin businessmen should waylay tourists on their way to the Seattle World's Fair but should not offend them with gimmicks and high prices.

This was the caution of Carney Campion, general manager of the Redwood Empire Assn., to about 150 businessmen at a civic luncheon yesterday at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

"Don't exploit the World's Fair tourist," Campion said, "but look ahead ot the years after 1962. The tourist's first exposure to Marin County should be a happy one."

Calling the World's Fair, which opens April 21, a "great catalyst for Marin," Campion suggested two projects which should be undertaken to lure tourists off Highway 101 for awhile:

1. People coming into Marin are looking for redwoods, and signs clearly directing traffic to Muir Woods National Monument should be placed along the freeway.

2. Mission San Rafael is the "least exploited of all missions" and tourists should know about it. Two problems should be solved: parking and lack of information. Campion said civic groups might set up guided tours of the mission.

"Golf fans can see many signs showing the way to golf courses," he said, "but we don't tell them how to get to the mission."

William Adams II, executive vice president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, said Seattle was building an exciting fair with emphasis on science and culture.

"The wonderful things happening in Seattle now can happen in Marin also," he said.

The "Salute to the Seattle World's Fair" luncheon was sponsored by the San Rafael Lions Club.

Reed Meeting

Reed School District trustees will meet in closed session at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the district's materials center to consider hiring of teachers for the next school year, announced Supt. Edward C. Pino.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 28, the 87th day of the year with 278 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn

The evening star is Venus

On this day in history:

In 1897, Nathaniel Briggs of New Hampshire received a patent for a washing machine, described the invention as an "improvement for washing cloaths."

In 1921, designers of beach wear predicted American women would start wearing form-fitting one-piece bathing suits in summer despite what they termed "the displeasure of clergymen and Puritans alike."

In 1939, Madrid surrendered to the nationalist forces of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

In 1944, a New York radio station banned "singing commercials" from its broadcast schedules.

A thought for the day: Russian author Dostoyevsky said: "Man is a pliable animal, a being who gets accustomed to everything."

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

What Kennedy Is Trying To Do For U.S. Consumers

By REP. CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON—The ancient rule of the market place is "caveat emptor" —let the buyer beware.

But in 1872 Congress passed a law to protect consumers from frauds involving use of the U.S. mails. Since then, the American people have been increasingly aware of their local, state and national governments' responsibilities to help insure that our private economy fairly and adequately serves consumers' interests.

As every housewife knows, particularly rapid technological changes have taken place in our consumer economy since World War II. Ninety per cent of the prescriptions written are drugs unknown 20 years ago.

In 1941 the average supermarket stocked about 1,500 separate items—today it carries about 6,000.

In a recent special message to Congress by President John F. Kennedy on consumer interest note was taken of those changes.

Here are some highlights of new laws proposed to promote consumer interests:

Food and drugs—Drug and cosmetic manufactures should be required to prove that their new products are safe and effective, and that they have the strength and quality claimed for them. Advertising of drugs to physicians should disclose all ingredients and list and adverse and "side" effects as well as beneficial effects. The president also asked Congress to increase the staff of the Food and Drug Administration by 25 per cent to provide better protection from such potential new hazards as food additives, food colorings and pesticides.

Consumer Credit—Truth-in-lending" legislation should be enacted requiring lenders and vendors to disclose to borrowers the actual rates and amounts they should be paying for credit—before they sign on the dotted line.

Packaging—Consumers have a right to expect that packages will carry reliable and readily useable information about their contents. And those manufacturers whose foods are sold in such packages should have a right to expect that their competitors will abide by similar standards. Laws to protect these rights should be enacted.

Cease-and-Desist Orders—Congress was asked to strengthen laws promoting competition and prohibiting monopoly. Specifically, the president asked that the Federal Trade Commission be empowered to issue temporary cease-and-desist orders against continuance of unfair competitive practices while complaints asking permanent relief from such practices are pending. Under present laws, smaller competitors may be driven into bankruptcy or forced to accept merger on adverse terms before permanent remedies can become effective. Kennedy asked for similar legislation to permit the FTC to temporarily halt deceptive trade practices in consumer goods which may do their damage long before the FTC—under present law — can "lock the barn door."

The president reported that under his existing authority, he has already directed that:

1. A Consumers' Advisory Council be set up within the White House staff—as part of the existing Council of Economic Advisors— to represent consumer interests and to advise him of consumer needs.

2. The head of each federal agency "significantly concerned with consumer welfare" shall designate one of his special assistants to advise him on consumer interests in the work of each agency.

Top priority job for both the Consumers' Advisory Council and the individual agency's consumer assistants is to try to make wealth of consumer research information already developed by the government more available to consumers and consumer groups in clear and useable form.

The message also proposed a Bill of Rights for consumers: the right to safety, the right to be informed, the right to choose, and the right to be heard.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Again We Back Paul Leake For Equalization Board

It will come as no surprise to long-time readers of the Independent-Journal that we support Paul R. Leake, a Democrat, for re-election to the State Board of Equalization from this Third Equalization District.

It will be no surprise because we supported Paul Leake eight years ago when he was first elected to the office to which he had been appointed two years prior. He had opponents in 1954. Four years later we supported him again, although this time he won without opposition.

Now, in 1962, although he just yesterday announced he will run again, we support him again.

This isn't surprising if you look at the record of his accomplishments. They are both lengthy and impressive.

It also isn't surprising when you realize that here is a man who literally goes into office "with no strings attached." He does not accept contributions to his political campaign even though he must campaign in and look after the interests of 25 Northern California counties.

Of course we have additional information, knowledge and facts which the average voter can't be expected to have. We've known Paul Leake for many, many years. He happens to be in the newspaper publishing business, the Woodland Democrat. So you see, we have some idea of both his abilities and his ideals. We would be willing to stand up anywhere and testify for both; they're tops.

Add to this integrity, friendliness, concern and consideration for people.

The sum in a man called Paul R. Leake.

If you have gathered we're sold on the guy, that we'd trust him to do any job he wanted to undertake, that we'd do all we can to help him:

You're right!

Caroler Of The Cool Woods

Almost daily we see a brownish bird strolling under the trees in our Marin backyard. Its white breast and throat are speckled with black and it has the proud appearance of a Robin.

The resemblance to a Robin is not surprising, for the Hermit Thrush is a cousin to our red-breasted friend. Although they are not supposed to breed or sing in the Bay Area, according to our bird books, last spring we heard the unmistakable "variations on a theme by Mr. Thrush." Others have told us they have heard thrushes sing here too.

However, in early April, the Hermit Thrush packs his bag and heads north. He returns to Marin in September.

The Hermit Thrushes eat a quite varied diet of seeds and insects, as well as being very fond of winter berries.

He is a harmless, helpful, likable, good-looking fellow and we'll miss having him around. But we are sure he'll be back.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Republican Task Force Making It Tough On Individual Candidates

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

SACRAMENTO — The Republican Task Force in the State Assembly is hitting hard at specific reductions in the State Budget. But at the same time it is worrying some individual GOP assemblymen up for re-election this year. The result may well be that GOP solidarity, which has resisted disintegration thus far, will crumble.

The situation is this: To date the task force has made two proposals, with a third due any time now.

The Republicans have asked (1) to have all bond issues voted upon together in November so the people can "see the whole package at one time;" (2) that a $12½ million windfall to the state welfare program from the federal government be diverted to college construction, and (3) due to come from the task force soon, that 800 of the proposed 5,800 new state jobs in the budget be eliminated, saving about $5,000,000.

The Task Force, of which Marin Assemblyman William T. Bagley is one, figures the taxpayers are going to be cheered by saving $12½ million on the college building program without reducing aid to the aged, another five million without putting a single state employee out of work, and getting a look at all bond issues at once.

BUT THE DEMOCRATS are cheered too by the overall looks of the program. They interpret the three actions slightly differently:

(1) Two bond issues the Republicans don't want on the June ballot are school and college construction bond issues. "What's the matter with the Republicans? Are they against school bonds?"

(2) "Are the Republicans trying to cheat the old folks out of the measly $4 per month more on their old age assistance checks that the federal government wants them to have?"

(3) "What will the State Employees Association say when they see the Republicans are for eliminating state jobs?"

Some Republicans are wondering about the logic of getting the (1) school people (2) old folks and (3) state employees mad at them all at once. And it's hard to explain that the Democrats aren't interpreting things quite right.

SOME PEOPLE don't understand how complicated things can get in Sacramento. F'r instance:

The Senate Finance Committee put a clause in the budget of the State College Board of Trustees that if their headquarters, recently moved to Los Angeles, isn't returned to Sacramento, the salaries of the trustees will stop as of July 1.

Now the Assembly Ways and Means Committee has inserted a clause in the same budget that if the trustees spend a single cent of state funds in moving their headquarters back to Sacramento, the entire $1,070,000 budget automatically will be eliminated.

Professor Hobson, which do you choose?

Of course neither clause is finally approved yet. The trustees will just have to trust that the Assembly and Senate can get together.

MARIN SENATOR John F. McCarthy introduced a lu-lu Tuesday. He submitted a resolution "Fair Play in Organized Sports."

McCarthy, a former professional baseball pitcher, deplored use in organized sports of "spy systems" using "such devices as high-powered binoculars, electronic devices and even slots in scoreboards."

His resolution called for "the firm adherence to fair play and good sportsmanship" and declared "that spy systems for intercepting the signals and plays of opponents have no place in the sports life of America."

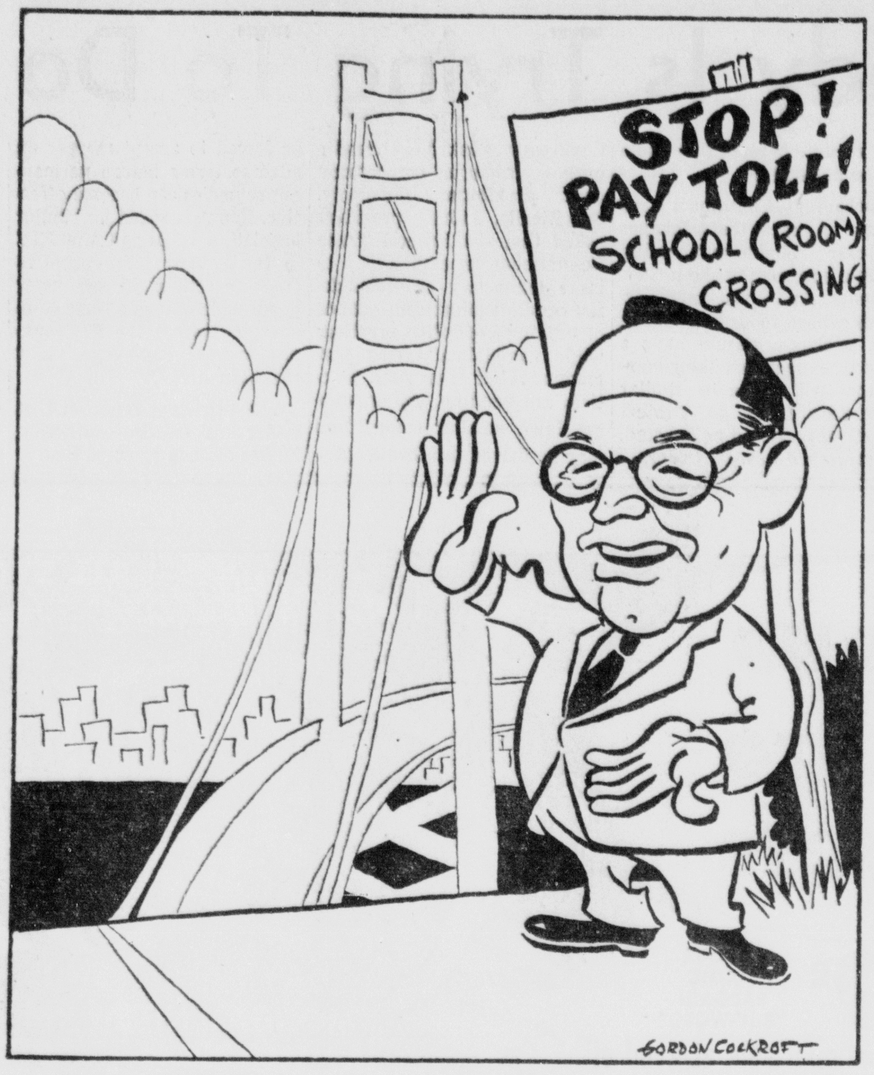

Hey, watch that runner on second, Mac, he's peering at the catcher!

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Displeased With Story On Reading

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At last Thursday's (March 15) meeting, the School Goals Committee requested that I convey to the I-J the committee's displeasure with the news story which appeared on Friday, March 8.

The committee feels that the tenor of the news story and its headline, containing the phrase, "Go Back to Phonics," provided to the public a badly distorted impression of our tentative recommendations on the teaching of reading.

Enclosed is a copy of the recommendations as they were read, in their entirety, to your reporter over the telephone.

It is felt that the reporter lifted one point from the complete set, magnified it out of proportion to the whole, and then used it to rake over the coals of a local controversy which has occurred outside our discussions.

This committee has been meeting weekly since before Christmas. An Independent-Journal reporter has never attended any of them. Without witnessing our deliberations, your reporter is working out of context. Had he been in attendance at our reading discussions, he would have known that phonic systems are already in use in this district and that our recommendation does not call for a total abandonment of other methods. "Go Back to Phonics" implies the opposite of both cases.

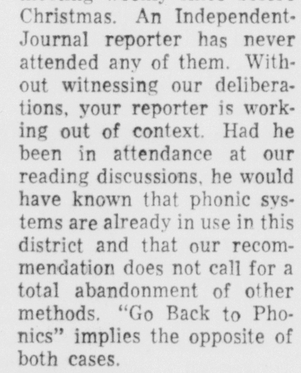

Additionally, the news story labeled us as some kind of citizens' committee. This is also not correct. There have been various citizens' committees active in Novato school affairs and there is no connection with any of them. The School Goals Committee has been appointed directly by the trustees of the Novato Unified School District and recommends only to them.

In order to repair the public's understanding of the committee's work we request the enclosed recommendations on reading be reproduced in their entirety.

JAMES CUZNER,
Chairman
School Goals Committee,
Novato Unified School Dist.
Novato.

(NOTE: The committee's recommendations were in these five categories: 1. Establishment of two reading clinics, one at the high school the other at Hill Intermediate School; 2. A reduction of classloads; 3. Encourage teachers to select qualified teacher's aides to assist during the reading period; 4. A committee be appointed "to work on a systematic reading program" with its purpose "to examine, study and recommend a phonics program correlated with the state texts" and "to study the present reading program and to develop a reading program . . . for Above Average, Average and Below Average readers with appropriate materials"; 5. A "careful examination of the ways and means by which the home can share with the school in the reading progress of the students.")

Francis Petition Constitutional

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Several letters published recently in your newspaper have attacked the initiative constitutional amendment for the control of subversive activities (Louis Francis Amendment), on the unfounded and unsubstantiated charge that the amendment is unconstitutional because it violates the First and Fifth Amendments.

I think it is presumptuous of any individual to speak for the Supreme Court in these matters, since they are the final authority.

Notwithstanding this, there are two definite indications that it is constitutional. First, the Legislative Council, a body of 100 attorneys retained by our legislature to advise on such matters, has stated that it is constitutional. Their record for accuracy surpasses 99 per cent.

Secondly, the proposed amendment is very similar to the Internal Security Act of 1950, which has been upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court. The main difference between the two laws is that one deals strictly with Federal matters, the other with State matters.

Concerning the First and Fifth Amendments, a favorite device of certain groups in this country is to misrepresent the contents and meaning of these two amendments, and then rely on an uninformed public to parrot these misrepresentations until these groups can just repeat the phrase "violates the First Amendment" and many will agree without knowing the contents of the amendment, or of the legislation involved.

For this reason, every citizen should study these amendments carefully so that he can personally judge, without relying on others to make his judgments for him. By doing this, and by studying the Louis Francis Amendment, I feel sure that any unbiased person will decide in favor of the proposed amendment.

The last words of the First Amendment state ". . . or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances." Based upon the right given us in this amendment, the people of California are now petitioning to amend our State Constitution.

ROBERT DOYLE.
Novato.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A law case had just reached a point where the fair-minded judge advised the defense attorney to withdraw with his client and give him the best advice he could think of. At the end of the 15-minute recess the attorney showed up without his client. "Where," queried His Honor, "is the prisoner at the bar?" "He's skipped," said the attorney happily. "That was the best advice I could give him."

General Marshall believed in shutting up shopt at Defense Headquarters early every evening. "No man," he insisted, "ever got a good idea sitting at a desk after 4 p.m."

A new tenant in a Bronx apartment was astounded when the poodle from next door rang his bell and politely asked if he might borrow a copy of the evening newspaper.

Next day the new tenant told his neighbor: "That dog of yours is the smartest animal I ever saw."

"Don't let him fool you," sneered the neighbor. "All he does is look at the comics."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Science Fairs Sure Clutter Up House With Rats And Guinea Pigs

It is with pleasure that I note the close of another season of science fairs.

I am not without interest in science and its advancement.

It is only that I am opposed to sharing the house with guinea pigs and rats for several weeks of each year.

I would have no objection to science fairs if the children at my house would devote their energies to such sensible, wholesome projects as "The Effects of Bicarbonate of Soda on Geraniums." Or, "How Neat Was My Playroom."

NO SUCH experiments take place at our house. There the small fry work diligently to prove that guinea pigs and/or rats do not grow big and strong without Vitamin C.

I can add that neither do I grow strong and healthy without Vitamin C. To keep one set of animals eating properly, all the lettuce at our house goes into their lunches, leaving me with dry sandwiches and no salads.

As a result, both I and the deprived animals grow thin, nervous and irritable and stagger about with bloodshot eyes and palsied extremities.

THERE WERE many sensible projects during the recent crop of science fairs.

One of the tidiest I can imagine came from a girl who experimented to determine whether good and bad thoughts had any effect on the growth of plants. The experiment consisted simply of two flats of plants, equally watered and nourished.

Toward one flat the young scientist directed good, happy thoughts. Toward the other, she projected evil, ugly thoughts.

The outcome was dubious, although I believe she found the plants receiving bad thoughts outstripped their happy competitors. She reported that men of letters at eastern universities who delve into the mysteries of extra sensory perception are watching her experiments with interest.

Another project causing little muss and fuss dealt with odds against such phenomena as throwing a seven or eleven with a pair of dice, and the folly of drawing to an inside straight. The experiment proved, if nothing else, that it is profitable to stay away from Vegas.

MANY OF THE youngsters' experiments went far beyond my comprehension, dealing with the confusion of electronics, positive and negative charges, ohms and amperage. These, no doubt, are the efforts of the men of tomorrow who will design more efficient electric can openers, toothbrushes and razors.

Next year, in place of ailing, irritable guinea pigs and crochety mice, I plan to suggest at our house an experiment which has for many centuries proved popular at science fairs in darkest Africa and in our own deep South.

The experiment is economical, noiseless, neat and requires little or no technical knowledge.

FIRST, A DOLL is made in the image of one not too popular with the young scientist. School principals, physical education teachers and cruel stepfathers are ideal subjects.

Pins are then stuck into the doll. Best results are reported if the pins are twisted as they are inserted. Everything from headaches to bunions are assured for the person in whose image the doll is made.

It seems to me such an experiment might greatly interest those eastern professors.

Presidential TV Debates Appear Assured But Should Be Changed

WASHINGTON — The two political leaders who suffered and profited most from campaign television are convinced that the TV debates are here to stay.

President Kennedy says yes. Nixon says that any future Republican nominee cannot afford to say no.

After the election Kennedy surprised both his supporters and his opponents by reversing his campaign manager, Robert Kennedy, on this point. Robert Kennedy had said in effect that the TV debates were great and let's have no more of them.

In answer to a reporter's direct question President Kennedy stated unqualifiedly that he would be glad to debate in '64.

NOW NIXON in his new book, "Six Crises" (Doubleday), suggests that the TV debates should be a permanent feature of presidential campaigns. He gives two reasons: The public wants them, and they are the best means for the candidates to "inform the public on their views before the widest possible audience."

There are many who think the debates will not be resumed. Some of Kennedy's associates feel it is risky business to subject the President to such harassing impromptu argument, and anyway, they don't want him to give his audience to his Republican opponent.

MY OWN GUESS is that the TV debates will take place. Kennedy is committed. I think he has no wish to get out of his commitment. If he tried to duck them, he would find it politically disadvantageous. He would then be in the same position as Nixon, who felt that he was giving away more than he could possibly gain by debating—but had to accede.

In his book Nixon writes of his decision in these words:

"I felt it was absolutely essential that I not only agree to debate, but enthusiastically welcome the opportunity. Had I refused the challenge, I would have opened myself to the charge that I was afraid to defend the administration's and my own record. Even more important, I would be declining to participate in a program which the majority of the American people, regardless of party, wanted to see."

They still do. Next time, in Nixon's judgment, the Republican candidate will have a special advantage because he will be on the attack while the President will have to defend his record.

HOWEVER, THE format of the debates should be changed.

One hour is too short. It fails to give enough time for the candidates to develop their views.

The press-conference, question-and-answer technique—which the candidates themselves chose—creates a scattered, hit-and-miss program. The need is to center on the main issues and to put the campaign in focus. The range of subjects should be agreed upon by the candidates in advance,and the debate should be directed to those subjects.

As a newspaperman who happened to be picked by lot to be on one of the Nixon-Kennedy debate panels, I am convinced that the reporters —whether TV, press or radio —should have no part in the debates.

The candidates should decide what should be debated, not the press. If questions are to be asked at all, they should ask them of each other so that the whole performance is theirs.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Two Strikes Mean You're Out When Playing Game Of Bridge

It's not only the postman that knocks twice. Opportunity sometimes gives you a second chance. If you turn a deaf ear to both knocks, you have nobody but yourself to blame.

West should have led a trump. This is usually the best opening lead when dummy shows enthusiasm for his partner's second suit. Dummy is usually short in the first suit, and a trump opening lead will reduce dummy's ruffing power.

Deaf to opportunity's first knock, West opened the king of diamonds. This won the first trick, and West still had time to switch to a trump. Careful defense would still hold South to nine tricks.

West was worried that he'd lose a diamond trick if he didn't grab it right away. Disregarding the singleton spade in the dummy, which virtually shrieked for a trump lead, West continued with the queen of diamonds at the second trick.

NO CHANCE: West didn't get a third chance. South ruffed the second diamond, cashed the ace of spades, and ruffed a spade in dummy. He returned to his hand by ruffing a diamond to ruff another spade in dummy, and then repeated the process.

This allowed declarer to make his eight trumps separately. The two black aces brought his total up to ten winning tricks.

Just see how different it is if West opens a trump. If South tries to ruff spades in dummy, he cannot get back to his hand to continue the process. He must let an opponent gain the lead, whereupon back comes a second trump. This limits South to one ruff in the dummy.

Answer: Bid one diamond. If partner responds in hearts, you can show the spades secondarily. Avoid opening with so weak a suit as the spades.

4 Napa Escapers Nabbed In Marin

Sausalito Police Officer Ben Barrett apprehended four boys who had escaped from Napa State Hospital at 12:30 a.m. yesterday on Highway 101 near the southern Mill Valley turnoff.

The boys, two 14-year-olds and two 15-year-olds, said they were out for a joy ride. They were driving a car stolen in Napa from Alfred L. Poe, Barrett said.

Police Chief Howard Goerndt said Barrett stopped the car because the boys looked too young to be out at that hour.

Scientist Favors Casting Of Spells On His Patients

NEW YORK, (AP)—At least one medical scientist is in favor of spell-casting even though it is unscientifically folksy.

But the fact is people do cast "black" spells upon themselves and one another, he said, and what can the practitioner of scientific medicine do but cast countering "white" spells?

Dr. George Day, an English specialist in rehabilitation medicine, revealed his belief in spells in a lecture. "By a spell, I mean any communication by word, deed or manner which creates unwarranted faith or doubt in the patient's mind about his well-being," he continued.

A woman told another woman in the presence of her 10-year-old son she was sure the child took after his father and "when he grows up he will get varicose veins just like his dad." That, said Dr. Day, was casting a "black" spell.

Scientific though he is, Day got the child to one side and gave him a jar of ointment. Rub your legs with this for three nights and "you'll never, never never get varicose veins," he said. That, he continued, was casting a "white" spell and a scientist could only hope it would work.

Women cast "black" spells upon other women by saying that hysterectomy changes the nature of woman. Then when a woman undergoes that surgery she waits with dread and anxiety for the change which the surgery itself does not bring about but which the spell may. A scientific surgeon shouldn't neglect casting a countering "white" spell.

Whether in man or beast, he continued, "the vast majority of ills leave the body with no permanent disability but in man they often can cripple the mind or spirit, and thus inhibit the body's full recovery. The commonest and most disabling complication of any human illness is fear—fear engendered by ignorance. Misapprehension and belief in things which are no longer true."

Scientific medical practitioners cast "black" spells themselves, in his view, if the illness or surgery have been dramatic they consider it severe and require a period of convalescence or "half-living" longer than it really needs to be, he said.

"We doctors say, 'No, better not,' instead of 'Why not try it and see? There's always a risk in whatever you do, say of being knocked down in the street. I shouldn't let it deter you."

In rehabilitating the sickly "one of the first and most important tasks is to seek out these spells and to break them, to allay unreasonable fears, and to refute downright lies," he continued. "But when you do this, why should the patient believe you rather than his previous informant?

"Like most of us, he will probably believe whatever suits him best. But however he chooses there will be misgivings, for a verbal white spell can never override a black spell completely. So you have to go further and put your version to the proof—his proof.

"It has to be his deeds, not your words. You have to coax, exhort, trick or bully him into finding out for himself what he can and can't do."

PINO IN WHO'S WHO—Edward C. Pino, superintendent of Reed Union School District, is listed in the latest edition of "Who's Who in American Education." Pino has served in his post since last September and lives with his wife and two sons at 116 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.

Hopes High U.S. Steel Pact Won't Set Off Price Hikes

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel wage talks are seen by most businessmen as the immediate clue to whether the American economy can achieve full prosperity in the months ahead.

Hopes are high today that a pact is in the making that won't set off another wage-price hike throughout industry.

Terms would have to include a wage hike that would satisfy the steel workers' desire for a bigger share of goodies from productivity advances in the industry and give them good sense of job security.

The hike would have to be moderate enough to keep steel prices from shooting upward, much as management would like to sweeten profit returns. The Kennedy administration has come out strongly against price increases.

And the settlement would have to be in a range that would convince steel users as well as the government. Otherwise they might rush in orders now in fear of creeping price raises later. Such a boom-bust cycle of orders would do the whole economy considerable harm.

The economy today is in a position to move ahead, in the opinion of the economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York. In their "Business in Brief" review, out today, they state with true banker moderation: "A noninflationary settlement would contribute significantly to the economy's well-being."

Steel users have been holding down their orders since labor talks resumed at Pittsburgh. Auto makers and steel warehouses are reported to have pretty well taken care of their foreseeable needs in the first spurt of ordering early in the year when many consumers feared a strike or higher prices.

Some steel companies have built up a stock of certain products and can meet new orders in normal fashion. Beyond this they have more productive facilities to call upon if orders justify, so few of the smaller users have felt any great urge to load themselves down with expensive inventories.

However, the metalworking trade weekly, The Iron Age, says today that unless there is "a valid indication that a settlement is near," there will soon be a second wave of steel inventory buying.

An agreement would kill this quickly and the weekly predicts that "either signing of a new contract or intervention by the government would send the market into a sharp trough."

Steel management spokesmen are much more moderate in their predictions, calling the present market largely tied to real demand.

Ignorance Blamed In Venereal Diseases

Public ignorance is largely responsible for the rapid spread of venereal disease in Marin County during the past three years, according to county health officials.

Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli, acting county health officer, says syphilis is easily detected and easily treated in the early stages. The fact that the disease has spread indicates a "dangerous ignorance among the public."

Syphilis and other venereal diseases have increased 50 per cent throughout the nation since last year, and the Surgeon General has set up a "Task Force on Syphilis Control."

A physician and nurse from the county health department have visited the county jail twice a month for a year to investigate possible sources of the disease among inmates, Dr. Tonelli reported.

Diagnosis and treatment of venereal disease are offered by the county department.

CREAMPUFF SALE

'55 Dodge Hdtp $495
Here's a beautifully kept Coronet hardtop coupe with all the extras including power steering, powerflite, radio, heater and ww tires. The original two tone paint job makes it hard to believe this car is seven years old. Original upholstery is as close to new as it ever was. Low mileage. Used by lady school teacher (no laughs please) to go back and forth to job.

'56 DeSoto 4-Dr. $445
Fireflite 4 Dr. sedan with power steering, automatic, radio, heater and ww tires. A one owner car that has only 35,000 miles on it. Almost a collector's item now that they stopped making them. Years of trouble free transportation left in this clean car.

'54 Buick Coupe $395
One owner, all-white club coupe with popular standard transmission, Radio and heater. The inside of this car is so clean you would think it was years newer than it really is. Original paint is perfect. Family car that was locally owned.

'54 Ford Wagon $395
Another one-owner local car that we took in trade on new Buick wagon. 2 Dr. Ranch wagon with automatic, radio, and heater. Clean as a pin, inside and out. Used mostly for taking children back and forth to school. Cleanest older wagon we've seen in over a year.

'53 Buick 4-Dr. $350
You'll believe that this car is a one-owner car as soon as you look at it. A retired high school principal retired and traded in on new Buick. 4 Dr., Dynaflow, radio, heater and ww tires. Absolutely in perfect condition thruout. Low mileage sedan that will make someone a wonderful transportation car.

'53 Chv. Convert. $350
Here's the cleanest old convertible in town. Copepr colored little convert. with a good white top. Standard trans., radio, heater, and ww tires. Saddle leather interior without a rip or tear anywhere. In perfect condition thruout.

Loaded Pistol Stolen From Mill Valley Home

A loaded .22 caliber automatic pistol disappeared from a Mill Valley home, the owner reported to the sheriff Tuesday night.

Lawrence W. Saylor of 41 Bay Vista Drive told Sheriff's Deputy James L. Current that a thief must have crawled in through a window. The pistol, with a clip of nine long rifle cartridges, and a holster were the only items taken.

School Pay Hikes Approved

Salary increases for principals in the Fairfax School District were approved Tuesday by the district board.

Principals in schools with more than 12 teachers will be given a salary range of $9,250 to $10,750 a year. Present range is $9,170 to $10,670. Principals of schools with fewer than 12 teachers will be paid an annual range of $9,000 to $10,500. Present range is $8,920 to $10,420.

Deer Park and Central schools each have fewer than 12 teachers at present, and Bruce McDonald is principal at both schools, under one salary. The board authorized Supt. Homer Sisk to hire another principal for one of the schools.

The salary of the district's financial secretary was also increased from a monthly range of $390-$465 to $400-$500.

All increases will be effective July 1.

A board policy handbook was reviewed, and is to be adopted at the meeting April 17.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

It's Spring In San Rafael Again, And Several Firms On Move Again

Spring—and it's moving time in San Rafael. . .

Marin Upholstery, 514 Third Street, is remodeling the former Glen Five and Ten at 1321 Fourth Street; expects to start transferring things next week. New name will be Marin Upholstery-Jewelry, a dual operation by Elaine Robinson and Art Deiters. Among other things, upholstery hints for do-it-yourself fans will be featured Entire move won't be completed until summer. Old premises will become another coin-operated cleaning establishment, we hear. . .

Realtor Gary Brown who has shared office space with Spiliotis and Co. at 32 Front Street now has his own at 38 Front Street, still close by. He has incorporated his business as Gary Brown, Realtor, Inc.

Chiropractor Dr. Charles R. Greenslade now at 1634 Fifth Avenue expects to move into his new offices at 815 D Street by Monday. He has taken an old home and completely remodeled it. . .

And we hear the Marin Municipal Water District will vacate offices at 874 Fourth Street by the middle of April for reestablishment on the 101 Highway near McGraw-Hill Book Co. — its new building.

IN AUGUST, Barney's Drive In Shoe Store, 811 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, will be moved next door to the Wye Club—taking up front space of the building now occupied by the dining room and bar. Considerable amount of remodeling is planned which Barney Gerstein says will give him about 5,700 square feet and much lighter quarters.

Paul Di Pietro will have the restaurant and bar facilities shifted to what is now the banquet room, utilizing the entrance on Vivian Street. Name may be changed, but it's too far off to know definitely.

IT WAS A NICE writeup Gary Rifkind of the Fourth and C Pharmacy, San Rafael, and his "neoteric" prescription rates got in last week's Drug News Weekly, but the statement that "its new sign gives the old store a new look" wasn't quite appropriate.

Actually the store was completely remodeled less than a year ago when Rifkind started the business.

CONGRATULATIONS to Robert A. Davies of Belvedere, New York Life agent who has insured more than 3,500 Bay Are aresidents during his 30 years with the company. His anniversary was honored yesterday. Davies has been one of the top New York Life agents in the country.

LARGER BUT LESS SPACE. The State Treasury in Sacramento has succeeded in reducing nearly a ton and a half of printed securities to 87 pounds by converting 70 million dollars worth in $1,000 denominations to larger ones—some having a million dollars individual value.

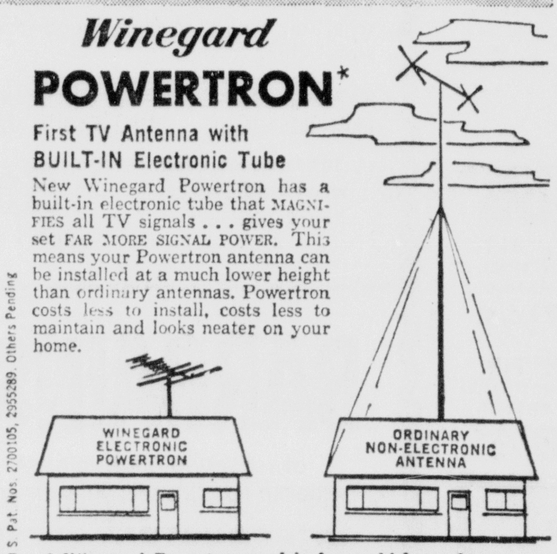

It was the first phase of reducing bond clipping and valuable vault space underneath the State Capitol. The State Employees Retirement System, State Teachers Retirement System and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. were first bond holders to participate. Others are expected to follow suit.

Recently enlarged and modernized, the vaults hold almost three billion dollars worth of securities. Now there'll be room for more.
